Prepare to Land Great Task Forces Reported Off Luzon

By MAC R. JOHNSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—Tokyo broadcasts today reported a second great American task force has arrived in "the Lingayen Gulf combat zone" and was manoeuvring for a landing, while hundreds of American aircraft—both carrier-based and Superforts—raked Japanese installations on a 1,500-mile arc from Formosa to Tokyo.

Daylight Blows Two Superfort Armadas Blast Japan, Formosa

By FRED SCHERFF
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—Two fleets of B-29 Superfortresses, striking simultaneously from the Marianas and China, bombed Central Japan, including Tokyo, and Formosa in daylight today.

Two brief war department announcements disclosed the attacks on what were identified only as "industrial targets" on the main Japanese home island of Honshu and "military installations" on Formosa, Japan's strongest bastion south of her homeland.

American headquarters at Guam announced that a "substantial" force of B-29s struck at industrial targets in Tokyo.

Radio Tokyo said the bulk of the force which hit Honshu, totalling 60 or more planes, dropped demolition and fire bombs on the capital itself about 2 p.m. Tokyo time.

In Grey North Tory Candidate Says Opponents Rank Outsiders

SHALLOW LAKE, Ont., Jan. 9.—(CP)—W. Garfield Case, Progressive Conservative candidate in the Grey North by-election, declared at a meeting last night that the federal riding of Grey North "is not for sale." He described his opponents, Defence Minister A. G. L. McNaughton, Liberal, and Air Vice-Marshal Earl Godfrey, CCF, as "rank outsiders."

Mr. Case told his audience in this Grey North village that the federal government had sought an accommodation for the defence minister and added that the CCF "has no more interest in contesting the riding than the man in the moon."

FUTURE AT STAKE

He said the issue in the by-election, in which voting takes place Feb. 5, "involves the future of the nation, in that it has to do with what is left of national unity and our ability as a nation to maintain an even keel."

The Progressive Conservative candidate declared the Liberals had sought to learn if his party would give the defence minister.

Indian Troops Occupy Shwebo

KANDY, Ceylon, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—Indian troops of the British 14th Army have entered Shwebo and are consolidating their positions in the road and rail town 41 miles north west of Mandalay, a Southeast Asia communique said today. At the same time other British forces captured an undisclosed number of Japanese positions at Kintu, approximately 15 miles north of Shwebo on the Myitkyna-Mandalay railway.

But Germans Not Near Collapse Nazi Losses in West So Heavy War's Course May Be Affected

By WALTER CRONKITE
TWELETH ARMY GROUP
HEADQUARTERS, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today German losses in the Nazi counter-offensive have been so serious they are likely to affect materially the course of the war on the western front.

Bradley, in his first public statement since the launching of Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt's counter-offensive, said that the number of German prisoners taken since December 16 by the American armies alone is greater than the number of American troops reported captured or missing in action.

Supreme Allied headquarters announced simultaneously the award of a Bronze Star to Bradley for "services rendered since Dec. 16."

Bradley said the Germans are not on the verge of collapse and that "there is considerable fighting ahead."

The Allied command, he said, had appreciated the possibility of a German attack through the Ardennes but admitted frankly that "the actual timing of the attack and its strength were somewhat of a surprise."

Bradley said that the area chosen by Rundstedt for his offensive involved no risk to the Allied strategic objectives or to the supply lines running up to our fronts.

The terrain, he said, was perfectly suited for regrouping of Allied forces which was carried out by Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery in the north and by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton of the Third Army in the south.

Thus, said Bradley, Rundstedt was contained "before he could do much damage."

Bradley said that assumption of command of the American First and Ninth Armies by Montgomery was a temporary measure, due to the splitting of the American front by the German drive.

"When the lines are rejoined," Bradley said, "the 12th Army Group will resume command of all American troops in this area."

MAY SHORTEN WAR
Bradley indicated that Rundstedt's gamble might actually work out to shorten the war instead of to lengthen it.

"German losses in this offensive," he noted, "have been tremendous. Our artillery and air forces have been able to punish him much more severely in the open than had been possible had he remained in his fortifications."

"His dead and wounded must be many more times the number we have suffered. Events may prove that the losses in men and material and the loss in morale when the salient is eventually reduced will materially affect the German ability to resist on the western front."

Selection Basis Changed Double Number of Canadians In Italy Will Get Home Leave

By WILLIAM BOSS
WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS ON THE ADRIATIC, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Four hundred men—twice the previous number—will comprise the next batch of Canadian troops to go on home leave from the Italian theatre, following the original detachment which went before Christmas.

These men, who qualify by virtue of five years service, will depart soon, according to a statement yesterday from corps headquarters.

Just as the number has been raised, the basis of selection also has been changed from the pre-Christmas plan. This was on a system of points for service. Now, on the basis of one point for each month's continuous service overseas and two points for each month's continuous service in a theatre of operations, the men must obtain a minimum of 80 to qualify for consideration.

SOME RESTRICTIONS
However, time spent undergoing field punishment, detention or sentence for more serious offenders will not count toward determining length of service. This restriction also held force in consideration of qualifications for the first detachment.

There will be no more extra points for men in field formations—a move to avoid placing wounded at a disadvantage and to give a fairer chance to long servicemen posted to base units in Italy. Nor will extra points be given for decorations.

There are 2,866 men with more than 80 points. Top priority goes to 37, leaving 363 vacancies for the remainder.

Names of all eligible men are being sent to their units, together with instructions to the commanders regarding the proportion that can be sent. The units themselves have final decision as to their eligibles.

The number of officers to go on home leave will be based strictly on the percentage of officers to men in the Italian theatre.

Broken Tram Wire Disrupts Traffic

A broken wire on the high level bridge caused disruption of street railway traffic to and from the South Side. The break in the wire occurred at 11:05 a.m. and was repaired and traffic restored 30 minutes later. Service to the South Side was maintained over the trolley bus route by way of McDougall hill and 99 street to 104 street on Whyte avenue.

VICTORIA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—A visitor here from Camrose, Alta. Mrs. Marie Louise Berg, 82, died Friday. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle A. Green, Edmonton.

Roaring Battle of Armor On La Roche Approaches

By J. EDWARD MURRAY
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—A roaring tank battle was in progress today on the approaches to La Roche, keystone base of the Ardennes Salient, and front dispatches reported signs that the Germans might be pulling out of the entire bulge under cover of a delaying action.

3 Cities Affected Thousands Walk at Coast As Tram Drivers Strike

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Thousands of workers plodded to their jobs on foot today and it was expected many hundreds more would be unable to report at their posts when 2,700 street railwaymen in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, B.C., struck in protest at the National Labor Board's rejection of their appeal for higher wages and improved working conditions.

Every street car and most of the buses in the three cities remained in the barns and picket lines were expected hourly at the main depots throughout the three cities. Picket lines had already patrolled the main bus depot in Victoria for three days while drivers in that city struck demanding equal pay with British Columbia Electric Company employees.

A last-minute appeal at a meeting of the regional war labor board and BCER company officials was rejected late last night by representatives of the street railwaymen's union (AFL).

For New Act Five-Man Board Is Established By Government

A five-man apprenticeship board, to administer the new Alberta Apprenticeship Act, has been set up by government order in council. It was announced Tuesday by Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of trade and industry.

Clayton Adams, chairman of the Board of Industrial Relations, will head the new body. Other members are Abel Mcgridge, Edmonton, a member of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America; R. M. Dingwall, Edmonton, manager of Standard Iron Works; R. J. Gaunt, Edmonton, Board of Industrial Relations; and J. H. Ross, Calgary, regional director of Canadian Vocational Training and an official of the Dominion-provincial youth training administration.

FOR DIRECTOR
Provision is made in the act for appointment of a director of apprenticeship and other officers needed for administration work. It is hoped a returned veteran with suitable background of experience and training may be found for the position.

Nazis Make Stand Before Canadians

ROME, Jan. 9.—(AP)—After withdrawing five miles from fallen Sant'Albano within the last two days, German troops retreating before Canadian units of the British 8th Army have made a stand along the southern bank of the Reno river east of Lake Comacchio. Allied headquarters announced today.

It was the first time in four days that Field Marshal Kesselring's troops had shown any inclination to fight in that sector.

Bitter winter weather and deep snowdrifts limited operations from coast to coast. In some areas south of Bologna the snow fell to a depth of more than 12 inches. White-clad reconnaissance parties were active on skis and snowshoes.

Last night Canadian and British units of Lt. Gen. McCreery's army had been reported fanning out along the banks of Lake Comacchio—a sort of inland lagoon—to both east and west, and to have advanced up the Adriatic coast as far as Castel Boretti, 9½ miles north of Ravenna.

Reds Stop Nazis' Counter-Attack

MOSCOW, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Red Army troops have halted the big German counter-attack northwest of Budapest and considerably slowed the attack beating in on the west of the Hungarian capital, front dispatches said today.

By BRUCE W. MUNN
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—German tank columns hammered a number of salients into the Russian lines on a broadening front 15 to 19 miles west and northwest of Budapest today while Soviet forces struck back north of the Danube in a counter-drive that threatened to roll up the flank of the Nazi relief army.

Moscow dispatches acknowledged that the Germans were gaining ground slowly in their multi-pronged advance on Budapest, although at a staggering cost in lives and equipment.

Meanwhile, strong units of the Soviet Union's Second Ukrainian Army pushed westward along the north side of the Danube toward the enemy base at Komarom, passing within 500 yards of German troops going in the opposite direction on the far bank of the river.

Inside Budapest, bitter battles raged on into the third week, with Soviet reinforcements reported pouring into the city in an attempt to force a quick decision.

INFORMAL TALKS
City Commissioner R. J. Gibb said that conversations of an informal nature were being carried on with officials of the Calgary Power Co. relative to the terms of the agreement between the 63,000,000 approximately owing by the company to the city, and the total kilowatt hours supplied to new consumers since the enactment of the interchange agreement.

This tabulation showed that approximately 38,000,000 kilowatt hours had been consumed by the city since the agreement was entered into. Gibb said that the Calgary Power Co. was now making a study of the situation.

EXECUTE NOVELIST
For German Ties
LONDON, Jan. 9.—(CP)—The Paris radio said that Paul Chack, 68, French novelist and former president of the Anti-Bolshevik Action committee, was executed today. He was condemned to death Dec. 29 on a charge of collaborating with the Germans.

WILLINGTON MAN
Dies Suddenly
Found in an unconscious condition on a Wellington street, Tuesday morning, Peter Demchuk, 40-year-old widower of that town, died while being taken to hospital, according to RCMP. Death was attributed to a heart condition.

A daughter, Anne Demchuk, resides at 9530 109 avenue, in Edmonton.

Seven Survivors 23 Apparently Killed in Crash Of Air Clipper

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Pan-American Airways reported today that 23 persons apparently were killed last night in the crash at Port of Spain, Trinidad, of a huge Africa-bound clipper.

W. O. Snyder, airlines manager here, said reports from the scene "indicated that 23 of the 30 persons aboard were lost."

No Canadians were aboard. The 30-ton plane, once known as the China Clipper, apparently crashed in the darkness while coming in to alight in a flare-marked area.

Early radio reports to the airline headquarters here indicated that the ship broke up and sank. Navy divers went to work to raise the wreckage.

The only known survivors were picked up by boat not long after the crash.

Among the missing were a missionary, Paul J. Whitlock, 36, of New York, his wife and their three young children.

There were two known survivors from another family of five on the big plane. Charles Donald Williams, 29, of Rio de Janeiro and his daughter, Nancy Lou, seven, were saved.

His daughters, Judith Carol, four, and Patricia Emily, two, were dead, and his wife, Margaret Elizabeth, 28, was missing.

HAD CREW OF 13
The clipper carried a crew of 13 for the 7,000-mile flight to the Belgian Congo, a route which was opened only last September.

Capt. C. A. Goyette of Miami, assistant chief pilot of the airline's Latin American division, was the skipper. He was one of the survivors.

The Clipper was coming into Port of Spain about 9:15 p.m. when it crashed. It had left Miami at 4 a.m. yesterday en route to Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, and alighted at San Juan, Puerto Rico, yesterday afternoon.

Four U.S. Soldiers Given Long Terms In Cigarette Thefts

PARIS, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Four American enlisted men were sentenced to from 45 to 50 years at hard labor by a general court martial which convicted them of looting supply trains and diverting cigarettes and rations to the French black market.

One witness testified that a huge stream of cigarettes moving towards the front from the United States dwindled at one time almost to the vanishing point before reaching Paris.

Capture Nazis

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Capture of five additional German prisoners-of-war yesterday in Arizona reduced to three the number missing in the Christmas Eve escape of 25 at the Papago Park prisoner-of-war camp near here.

Reconsideration Of Power Pact By Council Seen

Interchange agreement. He also suggested that further information should be sought, and that a report on the matter should be submitted to a standing committee of city council.

Ald. Downey gave notice of motion that transportation and housing committees of city council be established. This motion will be debated at the next sitting of the council, as will a notice of motion from Ald. Sidney Parsons seeking endorsement of a resolution instructing the commissioners to communicate with municipalities enquiring if any concessions such as special discounts or reductions in land values were being made to returned military personnel.

He said the object of his resolution would be to endeavor to have uniformity in such concessions throughout all municipalities.

He made the suggestion first during the discussion by council on the recommendation by the finance committee that a 20 per cent discount from the list price be allowed where land is being purchased by ex-service personnel for the purpose of building a home. The discount to be additional to all cash discounts and other allowances in force today.

A pre-requisite to obtaining this discount is that the ex-serviceman must have been a resident of Edmonton prior to enlistment.

HELD TOO SMALL

Ald. James H. Ogilvie was of the opinion that the discount allowed was too small, and moved an amendment that it be increased to 50 per cent. After a lengthy discussion this amendment was defeated by a four to five vote, and the motion by Ald. C. E. Garfield, K.C., that the committee's report be adopted was passed.

Ald. Ogilvie asked for a recorded vote on the question. It resulted in Aldermen Bisset, Douglas, Parsons and Ogilvie voting for the 50 per cent discount allowance.

Ald. Ogilvie's amendment called for an allowance of 50 per cent on city-owned land purchased in the single family zone, and carried a rider that an undertaking must be given to erect a home in conformity with those in the district, and also that its construction must be started within a reasonable period after purchase.

FAVORS CONFERENCE

Ald. Parsons was of the opinion that there should be a conference of municipal officials to endeavor to arrive at uniformity of action in connection with concessions to returned veterans. Ald. H. D. Anlay also favored this suggestion. An amendment by Ald. Parsons to have the matter referred back to the committee to implement his suggestion was defeated.

Dealing with the report from the city commissioners on equipment needed for the city engineer's department, Ald. Fred J. Mitchell was of the opinion that orders should be placed at once for certain types of necessary machinery, and he requested that the commissioners report on machinery they considered should be ordered forthwith.

In the commissioners report it was pointed out that a great deal of the machinery needed by the engineer's department might be obtained from the Crown Assets Corporation, and they stressed that little would be gained in placing orders for any equipment at the present time.

Ald. Mitchell asked if there was assurance that the needed machinery could be obtained. He was informed that negotiations were proceeding at present to purchase certain needed machinery.

GARDEN RENTALS

The Council concurred in the recommendation of the city commissioners that the Edmonton Horticultural Society be appointed the rental agency for city owned property to be used as gardens. The society has acted in this capacity for a number of years.

A major street plan was ordered submitted to the bylaws committee for consideration and report. This plan deals with all main thoroughfares running through the city, and was sent to council following a request from the town planning commission for information regarding the plan.

The council concurred in the recommendation of the city commissioners establishing new rates for electric energy supplied to farm homes in the vicinity of Edmonton, and also concurred in the proposed change in water rates charged for building construction.

It was decided that a 50 per cent reduction in curb parking fees be granted again this year. The reduction was granted because gasoline sales have been reduced considerably owing to wartime restrictions.

A grant of $75 monthly will be made to the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee to assist in payment of secretary's salary. This grant will be continued until such time as the Dominion department concerned assumes this expenditure.

CUT INTEREST RATES

Council agreed to the lowering of interest rates on agreements for sale from six to five percent. The reduction will take effect from Jan. 1, 1945, and will be effective on the unexpired portions of all agreements.

Authorization was given to provisional estimates totalling $3,169,683 which will be required to carry on the city's business pending the passing of the 1945 estimates and the striking of the mill rate for this year.

Also authorized by council was the request from T. E. Garfield, K.C., city solicitor, to advertise proposed changes to the city charter.

Strike Settlement Proposal Advanced

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Vancouver Island Coach Line drivers will vote today on a proposed strike settlement presented here by Labor Minister George S. Pearson at a meeting of the Regional War Labor Board. Mr. Pearson announced last night. Pending outcome of a vote, all parties to negotiations declined to discuss the suggestions offered.

asked by the national war labor board.

Mr. McGeough had conveyed to the union with company and national board approval an offer of 5½ cents an hour overall increase, a cent more than the offer the union membership had rejected by a vote of 1889 to 150 in a referendum yesterday. This offer was rejected and Mr. McGeough said he had gone to the limit of his responsibility to avert the strike.

Meanwhile members of car pools doubled up and gasoline-short citizens got out their automobiles to help bring their fellow workers through the strangely silent streets to their jobs.

GAS FOR WORKERS

The department of munitions and supply authorized the issuance of extra gasoline to transport workers to essential industries.

A statement from S. Sigmondson, regional transit controller, defined as essential war plants, public utilities, hospitals, bread and milk producers, government agencies and banks. Employees in essential industries were also authorized to use trucks to bring workers to their jobs for the duration of the strike.

Last spring the regional board granted members of the street railwaymen's union a 4½ cent increase which the union then appealed to the national board, demanding instead increases from 12½ to 29½ cents an hour. Rejection of this appeal by the national board and withdrawal of the regional board's grant of 4½ cents an hour resulted in the strike.

Present hourly wage for motorcar and conductors on two-man cars is 74½ cents, and for operators of one-man cars is 80½ cents.

MITCHELL SAYS STRIKE "DEFINITELY ILLEGAL"

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell today conferred with senior officials of his department on the strike of 2,700 street car and bus operators in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, B.C., but there was no indication of immediate action on the part of the government to end the strike.

Mr. Mitchell reached his office late this morning after being delayed in a trip by air from Windsor, Ont., where he spoke yesterday. There was no comment on the strike from the national war labor board whose ruling on a wage application by the street railwaymen's union (A.F.L.) resulted in the work stoppage. The board refused increases of from 12½ to 29½ cents an hour and wiped out a 4½ cent increase by the British Columbia war labor board.

Mr. Mitchell told reporters he had no comment on the West Coast strike but in answer to questions he said it was "definitely illegal." Speculation was current but lacking any official confirmation, but the government might follow the precedent established last fall in the Montreal tramways strike of appointing controllers to take over the transportation system. It was believed this was one of the topics discussed by Mr. Mitchell at his conference.

VANCOUVER STREET CROWDS ARE NORMAL

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Crowds on downtown Vancouver streets this morning appeared about normal as dry and warm weather enabled hundreds to walk to work and as thousands of others rode to their jobs in automobiles and trucks during the first few hours of the street railwaymen's strike.

All through the city residents could tell the walkout was in effect due to the unusual silence caused by the absence of rattling trams. But there were hundreds of extra automobiles and trucks on the streets. There was no fog and Dominion government authorities had promised position of director. Mr. Gerhart said in announcing formation of the board.

The Apprenticeship Act, passed at the 1944 session of the Legislature, makes provision for employers and employees to ask to have their trade brought under terms of the Act. If investigation proves this advisable, designation will be made by order-in-council.

Every contract of apprenticeship must be registered, and provision is made for registration of existing contracts. The Act also covers termination of contracts, transfers of apprentices from one employer to another.

When a trade comes under jurisdiction of the Act, it is stipulated all male employees between the ages of 16 and 21 years must receive apprenticeship training. It is provided that no person between more than three months without entering into an apprentice contract or receiving permission of the new board to be so employed.

COSTS INVOLVED

Costs involved in the apprenticeship scheme will be paid by the Dominion and Provincial governments on an equal basis. In the case of returned service men, the senior government will take over all expenses.

Advisory committees for designated trades will be set up under the Act, to make regulations in regard to apprentices in one specific trade. Such committees are now being formed, according to the ministerial announcement.

Antipodean Force Relieves U.S. Units

MELBOURNE, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Australian and New Zealand soldiers have relieved sizeable American ground forces pinning down Japanese troops on New Guinea, New Britain and the Solomons.

The change-over occurred last November but, because movements of the Americans had to be kept secret, the operations of the Antipodean forces can only now be told.

extra gasoline rations to transport workers in essential industries.

The army, the air force and the Vancouver police department all had made special arrangements for providing transportation for members of their own organizations. With extra gasoline available for essential industries, it was believed that most war plants would have most of their employees on the job even if some were later than usual.

CAR BARNS PICKETED

Picket lines were established at all car barns in the city. Union organizers completed plans several days ago for putting the strike into effect.

Only trams running were special mail cars on interurban lines and these did not carry any passengers.

British Columbia telephone company officials reported a "terrific load" of calls last night due to citizens arranging transportation for this morning but calls were back to normal by mid-morning today.

Calls for taxis were not so numerous as anticipated and companies found themselves able to take care of all their regular customers.

U-DRIVES BUSY

Nearly every U-drive car in Vancouver was reserved yesterday before the strike and calls were still going into U-drive offices today.

A survey of bread, milk and meat firms showed they will distribute their supplies today. Dairy and bakery firms reported employees at full strength.

Postal employees arrived at work and there was no holdup in mail delivery although plans are still being made to provide transportation for these workers.

VICTORIA CARRIES ON ESSENTIAL SERVICES

VICTORIA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Victoria, streetcar-less, almost busless, today carried on essential services with make-shift and auxiliary transit, despite a strike of bus and trolley operators which affected every phase of business and social life.

The two large shipyards worked with full or near-full shifts. Fire and police services were maintained. Victorians got their mail.

The Blue Line buses, only system operating today, were reported to be carrying average loads this morning.

Luzon Marked For Invasion?

Japanese broadcasts reported today that great American task forces were steaming off the main Philippine island of Luzon and speculated that the Yanks were only awaiting the zero hour to begin landing operations. Map shows the strategic island as well as Mindoro and Marinduque, already invaded by U.S. forces.

an acclamation. "When we examined the situation we decided a by-election contested by him would crystallize what we considered Canada's greatest national problem—manpower and reinforcements," Mr. Case said.

Maj. Conn Smythe, seeking no future in the army, returned and informed the Canadian people of the desperate plight of our soldiers in Holland, France and Italy.

STORM OF AGITATION

"It raised a storm of agitation and protest which resulted in Ralston (then defence minister) going overseas to obtain first-hand information. He found conditions which confirmed the Smythe report, and called Mr. King on Oct. 13 the facts he had found.

"He returned a few days later to urge the cabinet to lift the ban, remove the restrictions and give effect to a proper reinforcement policy. In the meantime the Prime Minister, anticipating the Ralston demand, had contacted McNaughton. The two of them conspired or contrived to take the minister's measure."

Mr. Case asserted that the advice that Defence Minister McNaughton gave the Prime Minister was that the voluntary system would be made to work. "A few days later the General was so sure of his advice that he capitulated, and so did the government with very poor grace."

HALF-HEARTED DRAFT

The government, said Mr. Case, "put into effect what Mr. Ralston referred to as a 'piece-meal, half-hearted conscription policy,' and that is the very mess we find today. Now Mr. McNaughton says he has confidence in his plan if we will be patient. I suggest he didn't have confidence in his plan, for he did not resign when he found the advice he gave the Prime Minister was wrong."

Mr. Case declared that because one province had voted "No" in the plebiscite to release the government from its pledge of no conscription for overseas service, Canada had been held up to ridicule and shame. Gen. McNaughton was recently quoted in Montreal as saying that knowledge gained in recruiting in Quebec would be used in the whole of Canada.

"Quebec—a community where through poor leadership they are lacking in courage, loyalty and resolve," declared Mr. Case. "A community which has deteriorated until we find them paying tribute to those who would hamper the war effort."

HOUE ACCLAIMED

Ten thousand persons had greeted Camille Houde on his release from an internment camp and since then Houde had been re-elected mayor of Montreal. "He is the man whose chief contribution to the war effort was to advise people to disregard the law," he added.

"McNaughton and King had the audacity to seek to put into the best British riding in Canada a man who expounds a policy acceptable to only one province in Canada. I hope I am tolerant, but surely the time has come when no individual, no leader of government, no minister, should ask us to endorse a policy foreign to our thoughts and principles."

He concluded: "I place myself squarely behind the resolution of Gordon Graydon in the House of Commons that the government give effect immediately to a total war effort."

force was slackening but that the new task force has appeared in Lingayen Gulf.

The Japanese accounts said the Americans were only awaiting the zero hour before commencing landing operations.

There was no comment from American official sources on the Japanese reports of fleets off Luzon.

FRESH AERIAL BLOWS

However, official announcement was made of fresh aerial blows ranging over Japanese strongpoints in a wide Pacific arc.

The Japanese Domei and German transoceanic agencies said the American armada in the gulf, 110 or more miles north of Manila, began withdrawing under Japanese air attack early Monday.

Transoceanic said Japanese planes later Monday were carrying out large-scale raids against the armada, "especially in the waters off Manila."

Earlier Japanese broadcasts had asserted that the armada was "attempting to land" a division of American troops—15,000 men—in the gulf, but asserted the invaders "are still unable to secure even a foothold there."

NO VICTORY CLAIMED

In reporting the fleet's subsequent withdrawal, however, Tokyo made no claim that victory had been achieved or that a decision was approaching in the battle of Luzon. The armada was estimated variously to include battleships, 10 aircraft carriers, other warships and 40 transports.

Another version said 70 to 80 landing barges were in the convoy.

Tokyo said that at least two and possibly three other convoys also were loose in the Philippines south of Luzon and reported for the first time that huge forces, including at least 20 aircraft carriers and 210 transports in addition to capital ships and destroyers had been sighted moving out of the Marianas and New Guinea Jan. 3.

"Whether the enemy's main force, as expected, will advance to Lingayen, following the lead of the 40 transports, or whether it will attack another area—for example, an area closer to Manila—is not known," Tokyo said.

But Japanese accounts of operations in the Philippines were becoming more and more conflicting as the enemy propagandists flailed wildly for some clue to American intentions.

4-Year-Old Girl Chokes to Death

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Four-year-old Mary Morley of Winnipeg last night choked to death shortly after eating peanuts. She accompanied her sister, Audrey, 12, to a downtown store, bought the nuts, and began to have a small feast. Mary began choking and when a doctor arrived the child was dead.

Roaring Armored Battle

Allied Tanks Drive on Nazi Bastion

FOUGHT WEAK POINT

A front dispatch said they apparently hoped to feel out a weak spot, but failed. It reported that the Germans were attacking in the Rimling area east of Sarreguemines, north of Lemberg on the west side of the Bliesche bulge north of the Hagenau Forest in the vicinity of Oberrodern, and south of Strasbourg along the Rhine-Rhone canal.

"There are indications that the Germans are beginning to move out of the Ardennes bulge slowly by fighting a delaying action, and that they may take up positions along a ridge south of Houffalize as soon as they have cleared their armored units from the bulge," a dispatch from U.S. First Army headquarters said.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of the 12th Army Group, warned, however, that the Germans are not on the verge of collapse, although their losses in the Ardennes offensive have been so heavy they are likely to affect the course of the war in the west.

PREPARE FRONTAL BLOWS

While Allied armor battled the German tanks three miles north-east of La Roche, other forces were closing on the key town for a frontal assault. Cielie, a hamlet one mile north of La Roche, fell to a column spearheading straight for the town anchoring a broad section of the German defences.

Several tanks which the Germans had captured some time earlier were due in as pillboxes defending Samree, while 10 Nazi tanks were doing similar service and others were circulating within the town.

Two columns of an armored division moved into position for the battle last night. Clearing weather earlier today got the struggle off to a brisk start. A blinding snowstorm followed, robbing the attacking troops of air support. At mid-afternoon the skies showed some signs of clearing again.

ADVANCE HALTED

At captured Provedroux, where U.S. 1st Army forces were only four miles from the Houffalize-St. Vith highway, the Americans stood fast without even undertaking an advance in the vile weather.

A column of the British Second Army, striking southeast into the crumbling nose of the salient, captured Cheux, four miles south of Hottot.

Other British troops thrust forward 2,000 yards to occupy the Bois de Nolaumont, south of Marche.

The German high command admitted in its communiqué that the Allies had driven "gaps" in their lines on the north side of the Ardennes salient and said their units were engaged in "hard but successful" fighting against an American effort to break through between the Salm and Ourthe rivers. Some Nazi forces, the communiqué admitted, were encircled.

GERMAN CLAIM

The Germans claimed they had frustrated the effort of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton to blunt the Nazi salient southeast of Bastogne.

In the Vosges the Nazis admitted that American counter-attacks were being thrown in but claimed they had widened their penetrations in heavy fighting.

With two to three feet of snow, clogging most of the roads through the Ardennes, the Allied tank columns were making very slow progress and at many points half-frozen riflemen were moving out ahead of their armored screen to engage the enemy.

Field dispatches said the Germans were pulling back their armor from the northern and western ends of the salient at top speed, covering their withdrawal with infantry rear guards and extensive minefields.

NO GENERAL FIGHT

The Nazis still were fighting fiercely and in force along the southern flank, however, and there was no indication that the enemy had started a general retreat from the Ardennes.

The overall situation was declared officially as more favorable than at any time since March 1. Karl Von Rundstedt, embarking on his great gamble in the Ardennes on Dec. 16, and hope was running high that a substantial part of the 20 German divisions in the bulge could be pocketed and destroyed by the converging Allied armies.

Simultaneously, late reports indicated that the American Seventh Army had taken the sting out of the German divisionary drive into Alsace with a series of smashing counter blows that set the Nazis back on their heels all along that front.

CONTROL BRIDGEHEADS

Both German bridgeheads across the Rhine near Strasbourg were reported under control and Seventh Army troops pushed back into the salients carved out by the Nazis before Wissembourg and Bitch.

On top of that, headquarters announced the destruction by United Kingdom troops of a small bridgehead established by the enemy on the east bank of the Meuse (Moselle) river in Holland.

The biggest gain on the northern wall of the Ardennes was won by U.S. 1st Army infantry and tanks that cut across St. Vith-La Roche highway on a three-mile front west of the Salm river.

These forces advanced more than a mile south of the road line yesterday to capture Jubincourt and Provedroux, and pressed ahead through the night in the face of heavy enemy fire.

Early today, the 1st Army's right flank was reported in field dispatches to have advanced more than a mile past Provedroux to a point less than four miles from the Houffalize-St. Vith road, the last highway still under German control in the pocket.

High winds and intermittent snow flurries whipped at the advancing troops throughout the night, but at daybreak the skies were clearing and there was hope that direct air support would be forthcoming for the first time since Montgomery launched his counter-offensive last Wednesday.

British United Press correspondents C. B. Cunningham and Boyd Lewis reported from the front that the Allied breakthrough in the north had seriously imperiled the entire German position inside the Salient.

NEXT FEW DAYS VITAL

The next few days, they said, will determine whether Rundstedt can extricate the bulk of his troops from the Salient. If the Americans can drive ahead quickly to the St. Vith-Houffalize road, now less than four miles away, the Nazis' only hope of escape would lie in breaking through the American Third Army line at Bastogne, on the southern flank.

Late dispatches suggested the Germans were trying just that manoeuvre in the hope of winning back the valuable road lines radiating out of Bastogne, and weakening their northern flank for that purpose.

On the eastern flank of the Allied assault line, American infantry fought their way down the Hottot-La Roche highway to within a mile north of La Roche, capturing the village of Cielie in its path. Other units mopped up die-hard Nazi forces in Marcourt and Marcuray, three miles northwest of La Roche.

Take Intensive Course Missionaries to Fly Gospel to Far North

By JOSEPH T. GALLAGHER

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Jan. 9.—(CP)—The airplane is about to take a permanent place as a carrier of the gospel in Canada's Arctic. Most Rev. Marc Lacroix, 38-year-old bearded Oblate bishop of Hudson Bay, has taken the first step in a plan under which missionary priests will learn to fly and will take an intensive course leading to a degree in aeronautical engineering.

Officer of RCAF To Face Charges

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—(CP)—A court martial will open here Jan. 13 to judge Sqdn. Ldr. Harold (Whitey) Dahl, RCAF, on undisclosed charges arising out of investigations in Canada, the United States and Brazil. It was learned here yesterday. The court will be presided over by Group Capt. M. P. Fraser.

Sqdn. Ldr. Dahl, who came to Canada in June, 1940, from Urbana, Ill., to join the RCAF, had previously fought with the Republicans in the Spanish Civil war. Captured by the Spanish Fascists in 1937, he was saved from a firing squad when Edith Rogers, a vaudeville player, posed as his wife and sent her photograph to Gen. Francisco Franco. He was finally released from his Spanish jail in February, 1940.

The hoax played by Miss Rogers and Dahl on Franco was disclosed when, on July 26, 1941, he married Eleanor Bone of Belleville, Ont.

First Tourist?

REGINA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—A Regina hotel-keeper yesterday suspected that tourist traffic between France and Canada is soon being resumed, war or no war, when he received a postcard from M. Ober of Chamalières, France, saying he planned a trip to Regina this summer and asking how he could obtain a hunting license.

Killed by Train

DUNCAN, B.C., Jan. 9.—(CP)—Struck by a freight train yesterday, Ernest Jack, Indian, was killed. Police said the Indian was lying asleep on the track. The locomotive operator did not see the sleeping man until it was too late to stop the engine.

McLarty at Coast

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Secretary of State Norman McLarty is spending two days in Vancouver before leaving for Victoria. In an interview yesterday Mr. McLarty said he is on departmental business but explained he could not discuss the matter further.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"Maybe it isn't any laughing matter dear . . . but you do look funny with that little bag on your head and those big ones under your eyes."

Japs Land Troops On China Coast

CHUNGKING, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Obviously girding against any Allied landings on the Asiatic coast, the Japanese have landed fresh troops in northeastern Kueikien province, the Chinese high command announced last night.

A belated announcement said the Japanese landed Dec. 26 and advancing inland captured the town of Siapu, 70 miles northeast of enemy-held Foochow, but that a Chinese counter-attack Jan. 3 forced the invaders to retreat to Sansha on the coast.

(Last Tuesday and Wednesday American carrier-based planes attacked the islands of Formosa and Okinawa, guarding the China coast, sinking 95 enemy ships and destroying 111 planes. Formosa is 150 miles southeast of Sansha and Okinawa 500 miles slightly north-east of the coast town. Other carrier-based U.S. planes on reconnaissance flew 700 miles down the China coast between Foochow and Hongkong.)

Resume Argument In Libel Action

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Argument was resumed yesterday in special assize court before Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay in a libel action for unstated damages against M. A. Sanderson and his firm, Reliable Exterminators Ltd., the Globe Printing Company and C. George McCullagh. The suit was brought by 16 CCF candidates for municipal office at 1944 Toronto municipal elections and was based on an advertisement published in the Globe and Mail by Sanderson, who often printed political advertisements.

Sergeant Testifies At Officer's Trial

VICTORIA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Sgt. Maj. Thomas H. Emerson testified yesterday at the trial of Lieut. Urban Urton that he helped the lieutenant load motor parts in his car and that during an RCMP investigation Lieut. Urton threatened to "have him brought down to the rank of private if he breathed a word" about the incident.

Sgt. Maj. Emerson said Urton told him he had paid $50 for the parts. Urton faces two theft charges and a third charge of fraud by converting to his own use the motor parts.

Maj. Gordon Lacey of Vancouver, spare parts officer for Pacific Command, identified a letter he had written to ordnance corps special parts section here authorizing the dismantling of two motors. On the basis of this letter it was Urton's duty to have the assemblies broken down and sent to salvage section, Maj. Lacey said.

RCMP on Trail Of Escaped Nazi

VICTORIA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Provincial and Royal Canadian Mounted Police are investigating reports that Walter Manhardt, escaped German prisoner of war, has been seen four times at Cowichan Bay and Duncan on Vancouver Island. RCMP officers have asked any person seeing the man, who escaped from a Gravenhurst, Ont., internment camp, Aug. 8 last, to report at once to police. Pictures of the prisoner are being posted.

Bracken Lauds F.D.R.'s Policy Of Mobilization

By DOUGLAS AMARON

BRUSSELS, Jan. 9.—(CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, in a statement issued here last night commended President Roosevelt's reference in his message to Congress to the importance of national service "for the total mobilization of all human resources."

Mr. Bracken, who has been visiting 1st Canadian Army troops in this area, said:

"It is a policy Canada should have adopted at the beginning of the war. Over three years ago such a policy was unanimously endorsed by the Manitoba legislature. It is the policy of the Canadian Legion and in almost exact terms it is the policy of the Progressive Conservative party of Canada."

THOUGHT WAR WON

"With the great success of our troops in their drive from Normandy it was perhaps natural for our people at home to assume that the war was won."

"From first-hand knowledge acquired right here in a theatre of war I desire to point out to the Canadian people that this war is not over for our boys over here."

"There lies ahead a great unfinished job which if it is brought to an early, victorious and lasting victory, must have even greater effort and support from the Canadian people back home."

Coldwell in Favor Continued Taxation By Dominion Govt.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said in an interview yesterday he favors centralization of taxation after the war with the provinces compensated by the Dominion.

"It is only logical and reasonable that the Dominion government, as the senior taxing authority, should have exclusive levying powers in the income tax, corporation tax and succession duty fields, with the nine provinces being allowed fair and reasonable compensation for loss of revenue," Mr. Coldwell said. (The Dominion has taken over provincial income and corporation taxes as a war measure and is compensating the provinces.)

Calgary Receives Heaviest Snowfall

CALGARY, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Calgary's heaviest snowfall of the season which blanketed the city Sunday with 4½ inches of snow was a boon to children and skiers, but the bane of operators of trains, planes and street cars. Hundreds of Calgarians took advantage of the first real snow of the season to ski on the hills at local golf courses.

Labor Board Protests Two Sask. Statutes

By B. T. RICHARDSON

EDMONTON, Jan. 9.—Two Saskatchewan labor measures have been deemed infringements of the Canadian stabilization program designed to curb wartime inflation and representations have been made to that province to have the legislation withheld. This is the effect of a letter sent to C. C. Williams, labor minister in the CCF government at Regina, by Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chairman of national war labor board. Text of the letter has not been released either at Regina or Ottawa.

The two Saskatchewan statutes to which the national war labor board has taken exception are the new minimum wage act and the holidays with pay act, both pieces of legislation passed at the first session of the provincial house since the CCF took office.

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT

The new Saskatchewan minimum wage act sets a minimum wage of 35 cents an hour. This amounts to $16.80 per week for a 48 hour week. The effect of the Saskatchewan amendment is to fix the sum of $16.80 as minimum wage for a week regardless of the time worked. That is, if the hours worked are less than 48, the wage must not be less than $16.80.

In the opinion of the national war labor board, this measure would destroy a large part of the force of the wartime wage control scheme. It is therefore regarded in Ottawa as an inflationary measure, and doubts are also expressed regarding the authority of the provincial government to enact legislation having this effect.

The new Saskatchewan Holidays With Pay Act provided for compulsory two weeks holidays with pay in that province, though the National War Labor Boards regulations restrict the period to one week. A ruling has been obtained from the justice department, it is understood, and the verdict was that this legislation violated federal wage control.

REGINA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Provincial labor minister Williams said last night that he has exchanged letters with Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chairman of the National War Labor Board, on whether new Saskatchewan minimum wage regulations and the holidays with pay act are in conflict with the dominion anti-inflation wage control regulations.

Mr. Williams said it was hoped any differences with the Dominion would be settled soon. "We think this is desirable and just legislation and should be allowed to stand," he said.

It was understood that the Dominion felt the provincial minimum wage measure, setting a minimum of 35 cents an hour, might lead to a situation in which $16.80, normally for a 48-hour week, would be paid irrespective of the actual time worked.

The other act, still to be proclaimed, makes compulsory two weeks holiday with pay, and federal officials have indicated they consider that it may be in conflict with federal regulations.

Police Capture Army Deserter And Car Thief

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Joseph Zerr, arrested here as a military deserter, confessed to police yesterday he had stolen an automobile in Regina and driven it to Winnipeg. "Where is the car?" asked detective at central police headquarters. "There it is over there," he said, pointing to a vacant lot across from headquarters. "It has been there for three days." Zerr will be handed over to a military escort coming for him from Regina.

Tells of Attack On Foe Tanker

WITH THE RCAF IN COASTAL COMMAND, Jan. 9.—(CP)—F.L. J. L. Power of Vancouver described last night in an RCAF overseas press release a raid in which RAF and RCAF squadrons set fire to an enemy tanker and its escort ship in a raid in the Skagerrak.

"First a Canadian squadron— I am flying with an RAF squadron—went in with the first salvo and we saw a sheet of flame come up from the tanker," said Power, who wears the DFC for his part in numerous sorties against Nazi shipping.

"This turned to a column of thick black smoke which reached up to the cloud, 2,000 feet above. Blazing oil was creeping from the tanker out to sea, forming a circle of fire." At the end of the foray, he said, the tanker's escorting ship also was afire.

There are usually about 3,000 volumes in the library of a battleship.

Waterpower . . . Source of Abundant

Electricity

CAN HELP PROVIDE MAXIMUM POSTWAR EMPLOYMENT

Thanks to an abundance of waterpower, Canada is a land exceptionally rich in electricity. Thanks to our great rivers and waterfalls, plentiful low-cost electric power is assured in the Dominion for years to come.

During the war years, more than one third of Canada's electric output has been supplying power for the war effort. When Victory is won and electricity can be released from this task, Canada's vast power reserves can prove an outstanding peacetime asset.

Applied to the further development of our great natural resources, electricity can make us one of the world's most-favoured lands. It can increase the efficiency of our factories, our farms, our transportation. It can bring new beauty, comfort, convenience and health to our cities and homes. It can raise our standard of living.

But, to reap the full advantage of our heritage of electric power—we must plan its usage now. Without slackening our war effort, we must plan ahead, to make more and more use of electricity in the promotion of maximum employment . . . in the building of a sturdy, prosperous postwar Canada.

Before and After—Illustrated to the left is a typical Canadian water-power site before and after the installation of a G-E equipped electric power station. Canadian General Electric, leader in Canadian electrification for 52 years, has played a leading part in the harnessing of Canada's abundant water-power to provide electricity for industry, agriculture, municipalities and homes.

A Loyal Action

One hears with special pleasure the announcement that young Edmonton men discharged from the R.C.A.F. because of reduced requirements in that service are joining the Active Army in large numbers.

It is more than gratifying to note that these young fellows, many of whom have had as many as ten months of training and have suffered the disappointments of delay and uncertainty, have not permitted their unavoidable experience to sour their outlook or dim their patriotism.

They have shown that, having made up their minds to serve in the international emergency, they will serve in whatever manner that presents itself, whether it be the manner of their original choice or not.

This is a commendable point of view
and a loyal action.

It is unfortunate, of course, that no provision exists, so far as is known, to award them with a special seniority compensation with the length of their service in the Air Force. Surely some plan could be worked out so that their acquired skills could be utilized in a useful way in the Army. This would at least make them feel that their previous training had not been wasted.

At any rate, they demonstrate a wholesome attitude towards national service and one which neither the community nor the nation should readily forget.

Good Advice for Everybody

President Roosevelt's message to Congress on "the state of the Union" was of course intended for the members of that body and for the people of the United States. But the tone and text make it equally worth the attention of Canadians,
and of people in all the Allied countries.

The obvious purpose of the message was to call back the attention of the legislators and the public from the incidents on the fighting fronts and to rivet it upon matters which lie within the range of civilian duty and responsibility.

The President said he has full confidence in General Eisenhower; and left it to be inferred that this confidence extends in general to the men who are conducting the war in all theatres. On that phase of the subject he said little more.

Instead, he proceeded to discuss measures and attitudes which are needed on the home front in order to adequately back up the fighting forces, preserve Allied solidarity, and make certain the winning not only of the war but the object for which the war is being fought.

This sets the situation in proper perspective, for the people of Canada as really as for their neighbors. Measures required in the United States may not be required here, but the attitudes which American citizens were urged to keep are no less essential on the part of Canadians, and of people throughout the United Nations.

Every person not already so engaged should try to find a job in essential industry. It is the duty of everyone to emphasize the things the Allies have in common, and to oppose rumors, gossip, comment and criticism likely to divide them.
This excellent advice is equally good in every Allied country.

The President himself set the example
by touching only in general and sympathetic terms on matters concerning which there is difference of opinion in the field of international affairs. These, he plainly indicated, are not important enough to be made themes of discussion at the risk of breaking the solid front either during wartime or when the shape of things to come has to be patterned at the settlement conference.

Aside from its immediate purpose as a directive to Congress, the message was a wholesome and sanitizing "fireside chat,"
to which it may be hoped the peoples of the Allied world will give heed.

Instalment Plan Better

Edmonton probably set an all-Canada weather record last week. It is unlikely that anywhere else in Canada there has been during the present winter so much snowing for the amount of snow that actually fell.

From Wednesday to Saturday noon
there was only one brief interval when the flakes were not fluttering down. They started to flutter again Saturday night,
let up on Sunday, and resumed Sunday night.

But Monday morning not much more than a foot of snow had fallen over this five day period. In the valley of the Ottawa or the St. Lawrence it is not uncommon for that much to fall over-night. Toronto, it is credibly reported, has not yet cleared the streets of the deluge that descended upon it on the 12th of December.

Experts in farming tell us that a heavy snow-fall is desirable in the prairie region
in winter-time, because it ensures moisture
to germinate the seed when spring comes.
Townfolk will add a rider that it is better to get the heavy fall on the instalment plan. They had to shovel and sweep pretty steadily last week, but it was easy work compared to the digging-out they had to do one day in November two years ago.

There were about two inches on the ground hereabouts when the recent flurries started, and the average "blanket" is now something more than fourteen inches.
That is equivalent to around 1.5 inches of water, and a good deal of it may disappear before spring gets here. If the depth is doubled before the break-up comes, that will not supply an excess of spring moisture.

They Have the Tools

Moscow admits that the Nazi drive to rescue the garrison of Budapest pushed 15 miles into the Russian lines northwest of the city.

That throws light on the question of why Von Rundstedt was able to punch a deep wedge in the Allied lines in the Ardenes. The Russians were certainly not "caught napping," for they were on the offensive when the enemy drive started.

The blow in the west may have come as a surprise, but that doesn't explain why the thrust went so deep. There, as in the Hungarian area, the enemy must have massed tanks and guns and picked troops
in tremendous strength, to make the penetration possible.

Observers are speculating now as to where all this equipment came from, and where the replacements are coming from.
It would be an advantage to Allied airmen to know the answer. But the presently more important point is that, wherever more or stored, this equipment was in existence, and no one knows how much more may be in the reserve dumps or may be coming out of the secreted factories. The cold fact is that the Nazis have the tools.

Nothing but action in Allied munitions plants can make the necessary response to this unexpected disclosure of enemy striking power. Guessing where the Nazis got the machines won't put the machines out of business. The only answer to enemy machines "in being" is more machines.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1895: 50 Years Ago

McMillan and McDonald purchased W. H.
Juergens' interest in the grocery business formerly carried on as Juergens and Co., South Edmonton.

Forty-nine carloads of exports from Edmonton
this fall, and the grain shipments have not yet got well started. Coal heads the list with 18 cars, of which Calgary took 15, Macleod 1, Innisfail 1, and Red Deer 1. Oats came next with 17 cars, of which
New Westminster took 6, Calgary 4, Vancouver 3, Revelstoke 2, Golden 1, and De Winton 1. Three cars of mixed vegetables were shipped, 2 to Calgary and 1 to the coast. Two cars of potatoes were shipped, 1 to Calgary and 1 to De Winton. Two cars of barley were shipped, 1 to Calgary and 1 to New Westminster. Calgary took one car of wheat, one car of mixed grain and one car of stock. One car of furs was sent to Montreal, and 2 cars of grain samples to Winnipeg.

International Interests Conflict

Trade Rivalry at Bottom Of Most of the Current Disputes

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

In the last conversation I had with my late great friend, Raoul Roussy de Sales, a few hours before he died, I confessed to that brilliantly lucid Frenchman some of my apprehensions regarding the political course the war might take before it reached its end. I asked him, in a very American fashion,
what can one do about it? He replied, with his ironic smile, "Describe. Just describe — as accurately as you possibly can. The function of journalism can only be to enlighten as to what is actually happening. To do more you cannot hope."

That seemingly simple injunction is, perhaps, the hardest to observe in these days.

There has been a press debate between the British and ourselves.
Censure in the American press of the British policy in Greece and Italy called forth a sharp reply in the London "Economist," which has since been supported by three influential English newspapers: The News Chronicle, The Yorkshire
Post, and The Times, of London.

But does this debate enable us to weigh arguments and come to a reasonable conclusion; or is the debate mere shadow-boxing—a verbal frolic for issues unexpressed?
I think the arguments, correct or incorrect as to fact, are largely beside the point.

The British newspapers demand that the United States set forth its foreign policy. The presumption is that if we would only make up our minds regarding what we are fighting for, we might come to agreement. But it is not possible that the opposite is true—that if our aims were clarified, it would make relations worse, not better? If clarification was supplied to China,

million Indians have built up
hundreds of airfields in India; millions are working in the factories;
two million have voluntarily enlisted in the Indian armies, 50,000 are working in the British Mercantile Marine.

But for the aid rendered by India
in men and material, Britain's army
in the Middle East, Lord Wavell tells us, could not have maintained control in that region. What does this imply? German armies would have secured the Persian and Iraq oilfields; India would have been overrun by the Japanese. Could Britain have won the war in such conditions?

It is curious that critics of British imperialism, sentimentalists, supporters of Gandhi and the Congress, radical intellectuals and the like, never refer to this aspect of the case, give no credit to Britain's leadership, overlook the fact that the British Government is supplying most of the finance required to maintain the huge Indian armies of today; they will not admit that an incompetent government, discredited everywhere, could not have evoked the response made by Indians to the call to arms.

Could Britain and the United Nations expect more of India? A chorus of critics in reply tells us that Britain lacks the support of political India; give India her freedom, they say, set up a national government, and the war effort
would expand beyond recognition.
But to whom should Britain hand over? There is no Indian nation united by race, culture, religion and a common political outlook: the 100 million Moslems claim a separate nationality; they would only join a national government on equal terms; the Hindu majority would never agree, and even if they did, would there be any hope that the entente would last?

Is there no political backing behind the war effort in India? To begin with, is it of no account that 10 front-rank statesmen, most of them nationalists, are working as advisers to the British Government?

Willard Shelton in the Chicago
Sun
"When I am become a man," said
St. Paul, according to the stately language of the King James version, "I put away childish things."
The conduct of the Apostle could be profitably imitated by various Americans who have recently said
"I told you so" about the "machinations" of Winston Churchill.

One of the Americans is Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, who made a trip around the world a year ago and achieved his personal redemption of the British Empire.
Mr. Brewster, it is said, has generously had studied his geography books, but he was astonished apparently, to find that on much of his journey he slept in "British territory" or "British-controlled territory"—Egypt, the Middle East, India. He was awestruck by the professional skill of the British foreign office as exemplified by its field representatives.

He has been making speeches and writing magazine articles in which he asks: "Will the British outlets in 1940, but it has been to occur to him to worry whether Henrich Himmler might outsmart us, nor does that question occur to Senator 'Happy' Chandler of Kentucky.

There is another type of American nationalist alarmed about the

ated aims are stated, we are committed to pursue them. There is the probability that what bothers our British friends is not that they don't know what American policy is, but that they begin to see quite clearly what it is.

We have not yet reached the stage in history—and who knows whether it will ever be attained—
when great powers, or, for that matter, small nations, will sit down together, and in the light of pure and disinterested reason, work out a political and economic system
for the mutual defense and general welfare of mankind. Though we may accept the aristocratic thesis that "politics (in the sense of policy) is the art of discerning what is good for mankind," all nations, without exception, think that what is good for themselves, as organized states
and economies, represents the general welfare of the world. All policy is the rationalization of egoistic interests. And what is disturbing
some of our allies is that the egoistic interests of the United States are not synonymous with their own.

The United States—like the Soviet Union—is in an expansionist phase of its history. Both are industrial-ly growing powers. But in the case of the Soviet Union, we can see where they want to expand, and
why. They are after political influence and through it, security by power. They are not, at this phase of their development, after export markets.

The United States is in a different stage. Our geographic position and political tradition are against territorial expansion. But the productive power of our industries
drives us to seek new customers.
Trade follows political influence.
Since we ourselves, however, do not want colonies nor satellites, our policy must inevitably be to prevent the expansion of future competitors rather than expand ourselves.

Thus we are compelled to champion freedom movements in the existing colonial empires, because we want greater access to them. As has often been the case, British idealism corresponds with our egoism. And thus, also, we are compelled to try to prevent the partition of Europe into blocs. For there is no conceivable place for us in those blocs.

On the other hand, the postwar economic problems of Britain will be tremendous. This war has bankrupted Great Britain. In the past Britain has lived to a considerable degree by the export of money and the interest paid on it, by her unchallenged carrying trade, and by a thousand and one exports of services. But this war has consumed her assets abroad; much of her merchant marine lies at the bottom of the sea; and a formidable competitor haunts the future—the U.S.A.
Under these conditions the standard of living of her people demands a vast increase, in trade, even over her pre-war industrial exports.

And this, and not Greece or Italy,
is the real basis of the conflict.

If our press would go into the real problem of how, in the interests of western civilization, we might reconcile these conflicting national interests, the discussion
might be a contribution to future
peace and well-being. Otherwise it is a verbal barrage that spreads fog, not light.

Isolationists Are Encouraged

Capitalize Resentment Against the British Policy

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Political events in Europe during the last month have produced a sharp upsurge of bitterness and indignation in the United States. The effects of it, for good or ill, will be felt when a peace treaty reaches the Senate.

The first reaction to developments in Italy, Poland, Belgium and Greece is one of profound disillusionment and, in some quarters, of sheer cynicism. All the reactionaries and isolationists have taken new hope and new strength. Those good friends of internationalism, Senators Ball and Hatch, after a talk with President Roosevelt, point to "the gravity of the situation resulting particularly as it relates to future co-operation to maintain peace," and they call on their own country to "make a supreme effort"

to solve immediate political problems which have caused disagreement between the chief allies. Even such a devoted Wilsonian and champion of collective security as David Lawrence calls recent decisions in Europe "the crucifixion of principle" and adds:

"Britain and Russia want our help when they get into a conflict with Germany, but they seem to forget that the American people have been looking with critical eyes at the proposed international security organization
and that the recently defeated isolationists will be supplanted
by other isolationists more powerful than their predecessors if the United States is made the cat's paw of power politics in Europe."

Britain and Russia, says Mr.
Lawrence, show now that they are seeking to restore the old balance of power system. "Have our sons," Mr. Lawrence asks, "made all the sacrifices just to maintain an old-fashioned grab for territory and power?"

These are alarming words and show the depth of American feeling. Justification, perhaps, can be found for them in some unfortunate incidents and in some of the ill-considered statements of British politicians, notably in the former utterances of Field Marshal Smuts
and Lord Halifax and in a few unfortunate phrases used by Mr.
Churchill, whose genius for coining phrases has sometimes outrun his prudence. But it is by no means clear from the actual policies pursued by the British government, notably in Greece during the last few days, that it desires to discourage democratic movements in the liberated countries, or that it has abandoned its hope of establishing a European peace settlement within the framework of a world system of collective security.

What Americans like Mr. Lawrence do not seem to realize is that uncertainty about permanent United States policy is the chief factor discouraging reliance in Europe on collective security and encouraging resort to power politics; for until they are certain as to the permanent foreign policy of the United States and its willingness to play a full part in a new league of nations, European powers inevitably seek some other form of security, however inferior, to fall back on if the larger hope falls
again in the United States Senate.

Fortunately the extreme fears expressed by men like Mr. Lawrence and echoed more moderately
by such papers as the New York Times have produced a deep process of self-examination in the United States. As always in the democratic system, action is influenced by reaction as the debate proceeds. For the first time in this war the American people are beginning to realize the difficulties that confront them in winning the next peace; are beginning to understand that they cannot rely on the proclamation of general principles, however sound, nor wait until the time is over to deal with the merging political problems of Europe.

It ought to be possible, however,
for American "nationalists" to get over what seems to be their inferiority complex towards the British.

This country now has three times
as large a population as Britain. It has vastly superior natural resources. We are to put it plainly, stronger than the British, and it would be more dignified to recognize that fact—as the British themselves recognize it—rather than act
as if we were so weak that a special brand of cunning is necessary to save us.

There is a way to express legiti-mate American concern over Mr.
Churchill's errors of policy—just as the British legitimately criticize our errors about de Gaulle a year ago—without adopting the shrill, voiced tactics of Senator Brewster.
And not to give full credit to the fact that protest from his own people sent Churchill to Greece, to try to salvage a bad policy, would be grossly unfair.

Sapphires and rubies are used in meters and delicate instruments
in airplanes, tanks and other war equipment.

"Seriously, boss, if you keep on turning down people who answer our ads because of weight or age, we'll never get anybody for our vacant jobs!"

Secret Weapon

British scientists whose inventions and developments in the field of radio location enabled the RAF Fighter Command to win the Battle of Britain and have made great contributions to the Allied air superiority, have also to their credit a remarkable mechanism which enables bombs to be aimed with unusually accuracy through cloud, smoke, haze or darkness.

This invention, which is now employed by both the RAF and the United States Air Forces, has for many months been a closely guarded secret. In the use of this complicated device, mechanism lies the explanation of many exceptionally successful attacks on nighttime, before its introduction,
would have been regarded as impossible for flying. Some of the best results of the RAF in night attacks have been obtained within the last few months when the crews rarely saw the ground from the time they took off until they were home again.

For daylight bombing the added advantages of this "mechanical eye" is that it permits concentrated attacks on days when, because of thick clouds or ground mist, the enemy fighters are unable to take off to intercept bombers. The enemy can then only control with flak and, as has already been disclosed, metal strips and other devices have long been used to render the enemy's fire inaccurate.

To a large extent, therefore, this wonderful invention has been the means of saving lives and valuable aircraft.

According to the recently published annual report of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind
there were 12,554 blind men, women and children in Canada when the annual statistics were compiled on March 31st, 1943. The figure at the same date for the previous year was 12,346, which shows that during the year there was an increase of 208 in the number of registered blind in the Dominion.

Predominantly steel, a tin can also contains a small quantity of rubber.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

POSSIBLY we missed 'em, but in any event can't recall seeing the "terrible blow to sports" headlines which Major Ian Eisenhardt claims (according to an Ottawa CP dispatch) have been carried by sport pages as a result of the recent banning of horse racing in the United States.

That "revival of amateur sport" idea sounds very interesting too, but how about those of us who not having access to the elixir of life, prefer to and even enjoy watching others perform in our own favorite branch of sport, never having been let in on the secret of something better.

And as to "turning the professional sports fan into a participant," that already seems to have been heeded in some quarters, judging by comments heard from time to time complaining as to the number of "has-beens" or "youngsters" getting into the game.

CHIEFLY MINOR SPORTS NOW

IT is admitted of course that professional sports have been curtailed (the same of course, goes for all senior sport), but under the circumstances, why not? And most people like to and still do manage to squeeze some sort of exercise or recreation into a busy life, but the utopian idea of having sport solely for exercise is just so much eye-wash.

Anyway professional sports even in their heyday, were never available to more than a small percentage of the hundreds of Canadian communities, citizens in the others being content with whatever local conditions permitted. The situation now holds merely to a greater degree.

Under present day conditions, with the exceptions of the few communities where service teams are active, spectator sport so far as games are concerned (and in most cases it's the simon pure variety too) is provided chiefly by midget, bantam or pee-wee athletes.

The results are twofold—exercise being provided for participant and enjoyment for the spectator. Furthermore there hasn't been any noticeable rush, despite a lot of fancy theories, to assist their time and their money to help out the youngsters. Perhaps the National Director of Physical Fitness has this on his agenda too and that a solution of this and other sport problems will be forthcoming in due course.

In the meantime, instead of "spending our afternoons at the track" (there have been 10 days of racing in Edmonton since mid-summer of 1942), we'll be "taking the family for a good walk"—that is, those of us who don't happen to play golf, or haven't a stableful of saddle horses handy in our back yards.

Red Deer Army-RCAF Flyers

Service Hockey Opener At Arena Here Tonight

OPENING game of the Northern Alberta Service Hockey League will be played at the Arena tonight commencing at 8:30 o'clock, with RCAF Flyers of Edmonton hosts to the visiting Red Deer Army squad. Wetaskiwin Army is the third club in the circuit.

The complete schedule calls for 16 games for each team, with playoffs to follow the conclusion of the regular season on March 6. RCAF Flyers will play at Wetaskiwin on Saturday night, with a return game here next Tuesday. There will be a game in Edmonton every Tuesday night.

Three additions have been made to the Flyers since they performed against Red Deer in the exhibition on Dec. 19 which resulted in an 8-5 tie.

Mike Kavanagh, now stationed at Grande Prairie is expected to be in the nets, with Turgeon as alternative goalie. Kavanagh played with Vancouver Sea Island Station team last winter and prior to that with Atlantic City Sea Gulls.

Cpl. Arvie Wilson, defenceman with St. Boniface Seals when they won the Memorial Cup in 1938 also is here and Sgt. Mike McCloskey, left winger with No. 3 "M" Depot is available.

PO Jack Carver is away on leave and Ken Terry, big defenceman, will not be out for tonight's game. Probable starting lineup for RCAF Flyers as announced last night is as follows:

Goal—Mike Kavanagh; defence—Tony Kosloski and "Red" Ryan; forwards—Alan Nikiforuk, Hassie Young and Norman Zanussi.

Additional players available are Howard Cutler, Yvon Grise, "Chuck" Normandin, Johnny Filion, Don Smith, Wally Green, Tremblay and Suroso.

Starting defencemen for Red Deer tonight are expected to be Jim Colquhoun and Lawrence Piper, with Dave Morland at centre. Don Esau on right wing and Ed Harding on the left boards.

Len Edwards, "Peggy" Pegararo and Cliff Mackie, will likely be another line used. Jack Culverwell also is an experienced defenceman with Red Deer and Jack Dundas, Louis Burton and Bob Gilmore are others listed. Jack Forsyth is taking a special course, but will be back in the game later in the month.

Tobacco manufacture, in one form or another, is as old as the south.

Jim Macrae Shoots Last Five Points

By DON KILLIPS

JIM MACRAE scored on a breakaway, sank a free throw and another field goal all in the last minute of play at Normal school gym Monday night as Victoria turned back a serious threat to edge out University of Alberta 32-26 in the most thrilling and fastest game of the City Men's Basketball League this season.

The opener of the first double-header of the schedule's second round was also closely played, but YMCA Tailors came through to hand the newly formed Dunn's Tailors their initial defeat, 40-27.

Victoria, who were led by the accurate shooting Bill Price with 15 points—highest for the night—moved into a first-place tie with the Varsity Golden Bears in addition to gaining revenge for the 45-31 setback handed them by the older students during the first round.

Price's 15 points last night moved him up among the leaders in the scoring parade, in third place just four off the pace-setting Jim Macrae whose six enabled him to remain at the top of the heap with 44. Don Woolley continued right behind with 42, picking up eight.

Varsity got the first basket of the game, a neat shot by Don Woolley from the corner, but after the Vics found their pace there appeared to be no stopping them.

Bill Price tied it up and a few seconds later put the winners ahead 3-2 on a free shot. They didn't let up the least bit after going ahead, instead rapped in a total of 10 more points without reply from the opposition, John Boer, Al Lasowsky and Price doing the hooping.

Varsity came to life just before the quarter time whistle on a basket by Phil Proctor which made the scoreboard read 13-4.

The Bears began to match the terrific speed of the high school cagers in the second session and went on the offensive to out-score the winners 8-5 and come within four of them at the half time breather when the count was 18-12.

Both teams fought hard in the third frame, although little scoring was registered. Vic was held to a lone field basket by Bill Price while Varsity again out-scored them to come within two points of the fast stepping basketballers. Don Steed missed two free shots near the end of this session which would have tied it up. The high schoolers were out in front 20-18 after the slightly rough third quarter.

The final stanza produced more thrills than any game in the league this season. The determined Vic hoopsters went ahead to begin with. Bill Price tossed a neat one over his head into the basket to make it 22-18 and shortly afterwards sank a pair of free shots.

The Steed boys Del and Don, boosted the Varsity score to 22, just two from the winners, and then Don missed a chance to tie it up with a poor effort on two free shots.

Macrae and Price increased the Victoria lead to five, 27-22, but the Varsity squad never gave up for a second with two perfect shots from Don Woolley, one from well out and the other from the corner, came the closer to tying the victors than at any stage as they made the score board read 27-26.

Then came the final burst by Jim Macrae which assured victory to the Vics. With the play down at his own end—Varsity was pressing for the lead—Gordon McCormack heaved a long pass out to Macrae in the clear. As he fired his shot, which made it 29-26, Macrae was checked by the arm of Don Steed and awarded a free shot. He made the throw good for a single and just before the final whistle sounded tallied another basket for good measure.

Top single to date is 323 made by J. Templem of Meteos and the same kagler also holds the season triple high, 742.

L. Jackson of CPA Lodestars with 171.5 has the best average amongst the lady bowlers in the league. R. Wasyluk of Radio Range having turned in the best single score of 290, and R. Berkey of Meteos the high triple of 692.

Radio Range with 31 wins, 11 losses, led the league at the conclusion of the first half of the season's schedule.

come through with the needed points.

The Y cagers went on the offensive right from the opening whistle and when the quarter time mark was reached, were out in front enjoying a comfortable 9-4 margin.

The winners continued to press all through the second and with Chapman sinking six points, John McAlister, little Charlie Chinneck and Gordon MacLachlan two each and Mel Brown one, increased their score to double that of the Taylors, 22-11 at the half way point.

The third quarter saw more action from the losers, although they still were unable to out-class the fast-stepping Y men.

Walter Pashik sank two field baskets and Jack Brazer and Sammie Sheekler each picked up two points in the hard-fought third. But Ron Chapman again counted six, Mel Brown four and Gordon MacLachlan two, which gave the third-place club a comfortable 34-17 lead entering the home stretch.

With no need to continue applying the pressure, the Tailors slowed up in the last and were out-scored for the first time. But even at that they managed to hold the new club at a safe distance. Sheekler and Guy Cubitt did all the Dunn's counting, both dropping in four points. Charlie Chinneck matched their efforts for "Y" and MacLachlan sank a field basket.

The Dunn's team out-shot the winners by six in the entire game, but only sank 13 out of 47 while the "Y" cagers made good 19 of 41 attempts. Foul shot shooting was also on the poor side, Dunn's making one good out of seven and Tailors capitalizing on two out of 11.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va., won the Los Angeles open golf tournament Monday with a 72-hole total of 283.

Snead, chalking up his third victory in the last five tournaments of the winter tournament season, dropped a short putt on the 18th for a birdie and his first victory in a Los Angeles open. It gave him a last-round 69.

The putt enabled him to displace Harold McSpaden, Sanford, Me., as well as to stave off the last-hole challenge of Byron Nelson, Toledo, Ohio.

McSpaden, with a final 70, finished with 284, tied with Nelson, who missed a 20-footer and a chance to tie for the lead.

Snead came from behind to overtake four others.

He passed up Nelson, biggest money winner and leading golfer of 1944; John Revolta, Evanston, Ill.; Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles, and Sam Byrd, Detroit, Mich. Byrd and Revolta led the Victorian by two strokes at the end of the third round. Nelson and Mangrum were a shot ahead.

Snead took first money, $2,066 in war bonds, and Nelson's 284 gave him $1,600 in bonds, the same as McSpaden.

Byrd, winning $1,068, followed with 285. Revolta and Mangrum shared the 287 bracket and Sgt. Jim Ferrier, Camp Roberts, Calif., carded a four-round total of 288.

Colville joined the Canadian Army late in 1942 and transferred to the RCAF a year later, winning his wing as a navigator a month ago and being commissioned on graduation. ## Senior Golfers At Dunedin Club

DUNEDIN, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Top players in golf will play in the Senior Professional Golfers' Association tournament to be played here Jan. 15-18 at the Dunedin Country Club, the course the PGA hopes to have as its future home.

This will be the first PGA tournament since 1942 when a similar meet was held at Sarasota. It is open to all golfers of 50 years or older.

Among those who plan to participate are Walter Hagen, Tommy Armour, Jack Hutchinson, Charles Hall, past president of PGA; Willie Maguire, treasurer; Alex Cunningham, ham senior president, and Eddie Williams, defending champion and secretary.

LONDON, Jan. 9. (CP)—Bombardier Wimbledon, scene of outstanding international tennis tournaments before the war, will hold its first big wartime tournament "probably in June," it was announced last night.

Nora Cleator, club secretary, said it will be an invitation affair with the possibility that players from the United States, France, Holland and the Dominions will compete. She indicated professionals would not be invited.

Not all of Wimbledon's courts will be used. The famed centre court will be "outside" court because stands have been badly bombed. Show court will be No. 1 where the stands, accommodating about 6,000, are in good shape.

Not Being "Killed Off"

Great Chance to Revive Amateur Sport—Eisenhardt

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Jan. 9. (CP)—Never before in history was there a greater chance of reviving amateur sport in Canada and never before was there a greater opportunity of turning the professional sports fan into a participant of an amateur sport, Maj. Ian Eisenhardt, national director of physical fitness, said Monday in an interview.

Maj. Eisenhardt, former Canadian Army sports officer and now attached to the federal health and welfare department, said he could not agree with those who claimed that sport was suffering as a result of government manpower policies.

It was true that professional sports had been curtailed to some extent but these sports provided only entertainment and not exercise for the average man and woman.

Sports pages in newspapers these days were carrying headline stories saying that the banning of professional racing in the United States was a "terrible" blow to sports. Some sports writers were claiming that sport was being killed off by government restrictions.

"This is not the case at all," said Maj. Eisenhardt. "Let the man who used to spend his afternoons at the track take his family out for a good walk, let him take them out for a game of golf, or let him take them horseback riding and he will wonder why he had so often spent his time watching others get all the exercise out of sports."

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y., Jan. 9.—Lt. Arthur Devlin, greatest American born ski jumper and a lavishly decorated bombardier, disclosed today that he is still peeved at the air force examiners who decided that he lacked co-ordination "of all things" and consequently arranged for him to become a bombardier, instead of a fighter-pilot.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Glancing at the Russian racing scene (we're talking of horse racing, not the pursuit of frantic Fritz), it strikes us that if the United States had adopted the Soviet system of betting, all this recent hullabaloo would not have been stirred up.

The Russians, being a down-to-earth people, ran their pari mutuels on the system that the better has to pick both the win and place horse before he can win. That not only provides more money for the state-owned track, but also must put a damper on excessive betting—which was the barnfull of straw that helped break the back of the racing set-up south of the border.

BACK TO THE LAND

While on the subject of racing (who isn't these days) an item from Lyndonville, Vermont, stirs the fancy. Despite the ban on the entering of aristocratic horseflesh, the Lyndonville Driving Club held its annual harness race card down the town's main street—with the community delivery and garbage wagon steeds nobly matching strides. Who knows but if the racing ban lasts long enough, the Sea-biscuits, Penseives, Twilight Tears and their ilk may be replaced on the nation's sport pages by old reliable Prince, Nellie and their faithful friends?

CALLING SURGERY

Recalling that Maurice Richard was supposed to be the victim of a belly—(oops, tummyache)—the night he set a new point-scoring record, Tony (Winnipeg Tribune) Allan suggests that may have made him play better. It's Allan's theory that "nobody can put forth his best efforts when he is glowing with health, filled with good food and at peace with the world. He naturally doesn't feel like exerting himself." ... Don't be surprised if Chicago Black Hawks go out and throw themselves collectively in front of a fast freight.

TUESDAYS TOPICS

It now turns out that Rosario Joannette, that sterling stickhandler of the Valleyfield, Quec. hockey squad, doesn't answer to the nickname "Kito Te" after all. The handle is "Kito Te", which Monsieur Joannette modestly and freely translates as meaning "he has everything."

Bryan Hextall now is working in a war plant near Welland, Ont., and the former New York Ranger may be out helping coach the youngsters in the bantam and midget rounds being formed there. Talk around Hamilton is that Wildcats may be out if Tigers are in next fall, since the feeling is the city can support only one football club. ... Nearly half the 112 teams entered in the Ontario Minor Hockey Association lists are sponsored by various service clubs and teachers' associations.

Pitcher Returns To Little Rock

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Willis Hudlin, 39-year-old right hand pitcher, has been returned by St. Louis Browns to the Little Rock club of the Southern Association. Hudlin came to the Browns in August of last season and appeared in one game.

Their diagnosis in October, was a bewildering blow to the handsome, black haired lad from Lake Placid, N.Y., whose apparent co-ordination had made him No. 1 exponent of the "extreme lean"—bending forward so that he almost ate the tips off his skis as he soared through the air for distances ranging up to 288 feet, the American born record.

It was a puzzling calamity for the national champion who had sought Uncle Sam's sky service, instead of the ski troops, solely because of his yen for man to man competition aloft. This yen was never satisfied during 30 missions as bombardier over Germany, France, Belgium, Northern Italy and the Balkans—danger drenched missions on which his valor earned the distinguished flying cross, the air medal with three clusters, the purple heart with a cluster, and the presidential citation with two clusters.

IN HOSPITAL TWICE

DELVIN, now 22, had plenty of time to wonder about the examiners while lying in hospitals twice—with four wounds in his left thigh from angry flak over Munich, and with a broken right foot suffered in a fall out from a rudderless plane that had its entire tail assembly shot away, but finally managed to reach Southern Italy. He wondered if the examiners lacked co-ordination. And he wondered how his wounds would affect his skiing.

Apparently neither the flak nor the ball out impaired greatly the bombardier's bird like efficiency with the slick wooden strips, because he finished second Sunday in the Bear Mountain jumping championship, his first competition in more than two years.

He came soaring down the mountain, like a blue bird in flight, through a blinding sleet storm, for identical leaps of 125 feet. Merrill Barber of Brattleboro, Vt., the winner, registered 133 and 139. It must be remembered that the ski way, which comes down Bear Mountain like a white gash among the pines and oaks, is only a medium distance course with a record of 181 feet; also that weather conditions almost caused postponement of the meet.

JUMPED 288 FEET

IT WAS on a long course at Iron Mountain, Mich., that Delvin floated 288 feet in 1942, the same day that Norway born Torger Tokle went one foot further for a new record on the Northern American continent. The world record of 331 feet 4½ inches was made by Joseph Bradl of Germany at Piancia, Yugoslavia, in 1936 on an extremely long course. Despite T. Tokle's one foot margin at Iron Mountain, Delvin best the Norwegian in the '42 national championship at Duluth, Minn., the last held.

Delvin, enjoying a 21-day furlough, hopes that when he reports at Atlantic City on Jan. 18 for re-assignment, he will be given a chance at piloting fighter planes. "That's what I'd like," he concluded.

"I want that man to man combat up there that you don't get as member of a bomber's crew. Really, you get more thrills while ski jumping than while bombing."

A champion of the skis years to become a champion of the skies.

Chances Appear 50-50

Baseball Men are Wondering If Game Will Survive 1945

By LEO H. PETERSEN.
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—President Roosevelt's call for the greater diversion of manpower to the war effort left baseball men wondering today whether the major and minor leagues will operate in 1945.

Although they withheld comment pending more definite congressional reaction to the president's proposal, some leaders of the sport privately expressed doubt that the game would survive a fourth wartime season.

The chances at best appeared 50-50 and it became increasingly apparent that the major item of business at the next major league meeting—in New York Feb. 5—would be a decision on whether to attempt to carry on if the manpower picture does not improve.

Baseball men were hoping that before meeting the game would receive another green light letter—similar to the one he sent the late commissioner—Kenesaw Mountain Landis after Pearl Harbor—from the President but they were not putting too much stock in that possibility. Their only course appeared to be to sit back and see what develops.

MAY NOT BE FAVORABLE

The developments may not be favorable if congress enacts the President's program—a national service act, which amounts to an actual "work or fight" order, and the drafting of 4-F's into the various phases of the war effort to which they are best suited. It is the latter proposal which has baseball men hanging on the rope for the bulk of their manpower has come from the group rejected by the army and navy examining physicians.

Some leaders expressed concern over the request of war mobilization director James F. Byrnes, who closed all horse, harness and dog tracks last week, that all convention gatherings of more than 50 persons be cancelled. They felt that if the transportation picture was that serious it eventually may be extended to baseball and other sports travel. There was nothing to indicate, however, that such action was being considered, but the possibility was a factor in the general sports outlook for this year.

Other sports, as well as baseball, will feel the manpower squeeze if the requested legislation is enacted by congress. Professional football also has been drawing on 4-F's for the bulk of its manpower. But the gridiron people have eight months

Winnipeg Bombers

Defeat Army 6 to 3

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—(CP)—RCAP Bombers strengthened their hold on first place in the Winnipeg Inter-servicemen Senior Hockey League Monday night by defeating Winnipeg Army 6-3.

Don Gallinger, with two, Roy McBride, Bill Snider, Doug McCuaig and Paul Platz netted for the Bombers. It was the last league game for Pete Langelie, Alf Pike, Bob Whitelaw and Platz who have been posted elsewhere.

Bob Wiest got two goals for the soldiers and Bob Kirkpatrick the other.

Commandos Upset Leading Canucks

REGINA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Regina Commandos rebounded from their worst defeat of the season at the hands of Moose Jaw Canucks last Saturday to beat the same Canucks 5-2 here Monday night in a Southern Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League game.

Commandos took a 10-3 pasting Saturday. Their win last night left them in second place and Canucks way out in front.

Regina scorers were Jimmy Fairburn, Billy Pates, Les Gawthrop, Jake Klassen and Paddy Ryan. Clarence Marquess and Metro Prystal counted for Canucks.

Canuck Reported Killed in Break Was Noted Actor

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Pte. Gerald M. Johnston, a Broadway actor who played under the name of Gerald Kent, and who the London Sunday Pictorial Sunday said was killed during a mass break-out of Canadian prisoners of war in a camp near Stettin, Germany, last November was a former resident of Winnipeg.

He attended St. John's College here before leaving for the United States in 1923.

During his career on Broadway, Johnston, once played a leading male role in a Mae West starring vehicle, Diamond Lil.

He returned to Canada from the United States at the outbreak of war and enlisted in a Montreal regiment.

He went overseas in 1940 and was captured at Dieppe, presumably during the famous raid of August, 1942.

Bob Gracie On Top In American Loop

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Bob Gracie, Pittsburgh star, scored five goals and four assists last week to jump from fourth to the top of the American Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Mis spree brought his total to 48 points, four more than Tom Burington, Cleveland, who a week ago was deadlocked with Paul Courteau, Providence, for the No. 1 spot. Courteau dropped to a tie with Les Cunningham, Cleveland, near the bottom of the "big 10", each with 42.

District News in Brief

Stettler Tanks, Endiang Draw

STETTLER: Stettler Tanks and Endiang played a four-all tie in a fast hockey game on New Year's Day. The Tanks dominated the play throughout but due to a weak defence the score was not high enough for a win. At the end of the first period the Tanks led three to one on goals scored by J. Hanford, E. Boulton and W. Johnson. Banger scored for the visitors. In the second period each team scored one goal. Banger scoring for Stettler and Hogg for the visitors. In the third period Hogg scored for Endiang and tied the score which after 10 minutes overtime remained a tie. Stettler line-up was as follows: J. Robertson, Blaney, Brennan, Banford, Boulton, Pearn, Pinder, Rowe, and W. and H. Johnson.

The Midlet team defeated Botha on Tuesday night with a score of four to two. Both teams put on a good brand of hockey. Stettler line-up was: Jim and Jack Ramsey, Jim Siffka, Jim Daniels, Douglas Martin, Ronald Duncan, Ken Wuest, Douglas Robertson, Bill Hart, Ralph Anderson and Bob Milner.

Czar Residents Greet Service Men

CZAR: On Wednesday evening a crowd that filled the Czar community hall gathered to welcome home Fil-Li, J. R. Coffey, DFC, who has returned from overseas after completing two tours of operations with the Pathfinder Squadron of the Bomber Command. He was born at Czar and attended the Czar village public and high schools. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Coffey, old-timers of this district having settled here in 1906.

His wife the former Miss Ruby Anderson was born and educated in this district. She and their young son have been living in Provost awaiting the safe return of husband and father. The people of Czar are justly proud of a truly native son.

An enthusiastic welcome was extended to Sgt. Ludwig Gross who had previously returned from overseas; to Lt. Quinten Lawson who is home on leave from the Italian front after four years service overseas; and to Flying Officer Arthur Beck who has completed a tour of operations with Coastal Command and is now home on leave. A moment of silence was observed for the sons of this district who gave their all in the service of King and Country.

BOMBS BARE RELICS

YARMOUTH, Eng.—(CP)—German bombs laid bare extensive 17th century relics from which it now is possible to trace the original layout of the town.

Hardisty School Team Wins From Lougheed 5 to 0

HARDISTY: There was an exciting game of hockey on the Hardisty rink on Jan. 2 between the Lougheed and Hardisty High school teams, resulting in a victory of 5 to 0 for the home team. Goal scorers: David Murray and Gordon Kirkman had a collision on the ice and David had to have six stitches and Gordon three in their foreheads.

The curling rink is a favorite place for Hardisty people now, with men, women and high school students taking part in the sport.

A good crowd attended the New Year's Eve frolic in Kiefer's hall here and the Christmas Eve midnight social in the community hall in Lougheed.

With Those In Uniform

DAYS LAND: FO. Fred Way, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Way, returned Sunday from overseas, having completed a tour of operations. He was stationed in North Africa and saw service there. He went overseas two and a half years ago.

HARDISTY: Sgt. Clayton Lawrence is home on 30 days leave from overseas. Robert Earlman, wounded in France last August, arrived home in Lougheed on Monday morning. Sgt. Pilot Frank Mathews is now a member of the Civilian Air Reserve and expects to resume his schooling until called for further service. Fil-Officer Patricia Cave came from Hamilton to spend the Christmas with her mother, Mrs. H. E. Cave. L-Cpl. Dorothy Mathews, RCAF (W.D.), Edmonton, spent New Year's with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Mathews. Soldiers home during the holidays included: L.A.W. ### Vermilion Fair Group Organizes VERMILION: The president versus vice-president competition of the Vermilion Curling Club ended Friday with president E. Corley losing to vice-president R. Carroll by a total score of 73 to 74 points. Twelve rinks competed.

Directors of the Vermilion Agricultural Society organized for their 1945 fair on Saturday. C. Heckbert was re-appointed secretary-treasurer. Managing director J. R. Robson was appointed supervisor of live stock committees. Appointment as chairman of live stock committees were: Heavy horses, M. Barr; light horses, A. M. West; sheep and swine, Ed. Hart; short horns, L. Robinson; Holsteins, W. Barrand, E. H. Buckingham; calf clubs and junior work, William Steel.

President N. McLellan and secretary S. C. Heckbert were appointed delegates to the Western Canadian Fair Association meeting in Winnipeg on Feb. 22 and 23. Directors voted unanimously to have harness races at the 1945 fair.

L. Sharp President Of Manfred UFA

BASHAW: Annual meeting of the Manfred UFA was held recently. A. Olson was speaker for the evening and the election of officers took place. Mr. Olson spoke on various points regarding the Union. Later the following members were elected for a new term: president, L. Sharp; vice-president, C. H. Johnson; directors, C. Fuerst, William Resler, G. Clark and Mrs. L. Sharp.

The United church held its annual Christmas concert and tree. There was a white Christmas gift ceremony also. Every child brought a gift wrapped in white paper, all of which were sent to Cold Lake hospital.

Gordon Sills, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sills, has been awarded the Governor-General's bronze medal for highest standing achieved in grade 9 examinations last June in the Camrose school inspection.

BASHAW: PO. H. Cummings, of Portage la Prairie, and Cpl. D. Cummings, of Vancouver, B.C., spent the holidays with their mother and sister here. Pte. M. Blou, of Sydney, N.S., is home on leave. L.A.C. G. Lindstrom, of Port Hardy, B.C., spent Christmas with his sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. A. Nicholson, Cpl. R. Blanchard, of Moose Jaw, Sask., was a holiday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Johnson.

Mrs. Milne Dies At Hardisty

HARDISTY: Mrs. L. A. Milne, 84 years old, died in St. Anne's hospital on Jan. 4, after residing in Hardisty for more than 35 years. She and her husband came here from Ontario and lived on a farm for a number of years before moving into town. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. She is survived by one daughter at North Battleford, one son in Toronto; a sister in the United States; four grandchildren, and several great grandchildren. Further details and funeral arrangements await the arrival of the daughter.

Mrs. H. Cooper has bought the Redman house, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bell, and has taken possession.

A chicken donated by J. Auost was raffled and brought $4.10 for The Not Forgotten Fund. It was won by Mrs. A. Cline. A dance on Dec. 15 for the same cause raised $36, making a total of $40.10.

Gleaned From Rural News

STETTLER: Stettler Elks sponsored the New Year's dance held in the armory. Nurse Morrison of the Provincial Health Clinic, visited in High River. Principal and Mrs. S. Hooper were Calgary visitors. W. S. Mackie, M.L.A., is a business visitor in the capital.

VERMILION: Vermilion Curling club's 35th annual bonspiel is to open Feb. 26. It was changed from Feb. 20, owing to conflicting dates of neighboring bonspiels. Islay Curling club challenged Vermilion club, holders of the Blair challenge cup and sent skips Endens and Mitchell to Vermilion ice to compete on Saturday evening. Vermilion skips Park and McFadden repulsed the invaders with a margin of nine points. William Dick and Ken Urquhart have purchased Vermilion Oil Field Motors from J. L. Wilson.

DAYS LAND: Sam Levine has sold his clothing store to Mr. Stevens. They are moving to present. Mr. Stevens plans to move to the adjoining building where he will have more commodious quarters. Mr. Levine is moving to Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olson were guests of honor recently when friends and neighbors called to help celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Ernest Koehlim on behalf of the guests made the presentation and expressed the good wishes of the gathering. The couple received a silver tea service, flat ware, casserole, cake plate and a chenille bedspread.

MANVILLE: Edward Manz, one of Manville's prominent and respected citizens, died here. After arriving in Canada from Austria, Mr. Manz settled and homesteaded in the Port Saskatchewan district, in 1896, with his family. In 1908 he bought a meat market business here and has resided here ever since, being in that business until nine years ago when he suffered a stroke, and was unable to carry on. The business has been operated by his family under his guidance since that time. Mr. Manz was a member of the Anglican church as well as having served on the vestry. He was also an ardent member of Manville L.O.L. No. 946, being master for two years. He was a member of Victoria Royal Black Preceptory No. 945 and was active in civic affairs, having served on the school board and the village council.

Coal Investigation Opens Next Week

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—An investigation into all phases of the Canadian coal industry—likely to form the basis of government post-war policy toward the industry—starts next week when a Royal Commission headed by Mr. Justice W. F. Carroll of Halifax, opens an inquiry at Sydney, N.S.

The commission—which includes as members Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin and Angus Morrison, United Mine Workers (U.M.W.) official, both of Calgary—has broad terms of reference and it is expected the investigation will be the most thorough undertaken of the industry which has some 25,000 employees.

Members of the commission, with J. J. Frawley of Edmonton, commission counsel, and R. D. Howland of Ottawa, secretary, are expected to reach Sydney this week to open preliminary studies.

Extra Gasoline Granted Workers In Strike Threat

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9.—(CP)—The department of munitions and supply has authorized the granting of extra gasoline to transport workers to essential war plants and businesses in west coast cities where a transportation tieup is threatened by a street railwaymen's strike. S. Sigmondson, regional transit controller, announced last night.

Additional gasoline will be granted for employees' cars to transport fellow-workers living more than two miles from their place of employment.

This order will apply to employees in war plants, public utilities, hospitals, bread and milk producers, government agencies, banks and other organizations essential to the war effort, Mr. Sigmondson said.

Soviet Paper Says German Offensive Not on 1918 Scale

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(CP-Reuters)—Deriding any comparison between Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's present drive and Gen. Erich Von Ludendorff's 1918 offensive, the Soviet periodical "War and the Working Class" Monday said that the current German attacks on the western front were actuated purely by the German government's desire to thwart the plan the Allies were preparing for a general offensive in the west.

In Nutrition Value

Feeding of Humans Today Seen on Par With Pigs

SASKATOON, Jan. 9.—(CP)—The nutrition value of food given the average human being today was only a little better than the level for the worst feeding of pigs, said W. S. Mather of Winnipeg at the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Agricultural College Graduates' Association here yesterday.

Mr. Mather, agricultural editor of the Winnipeg Free Press Prairie Farmer, spoke of nutrition and farm surpluses as related to family allowances. He believed low income was a cause of poor feeding of humans and urged improvement.

"From the point of view of planning for the future of the human race we should be justified in feeding human beings as we do our best pigs," Mr. Mather said. "The children will become the working population of the world and if in childhood they have been poorly fed they will be stunted and weak."

Dr. L. E. Kirk, dean of the College of Agriculture, referred to some of the trends in the past year he considered significant.

He said there had been a noticeable decrease in the public pronouncements of a utopian nature and there were signs in the international sphere that the post-war world would not see a decline in the spirit of nationalism. With this went a decline in optimism in Canada about markets for post-war products.

He saw the overall food situation in the world after the war extremely bad and said ways and means would have to be found to get food to the countries where it was most needed.

Request Change In Game Laws This Province

A recommendation that Sunday shooting be allowed in Alberta will go to the provincial government in the form of a resolution from the Alberta Fish and Game Association. The recommendation received unanimous approval of delegates to the 16th annual convention of the organization which is being held at the Macdonald hotel.

Members of the committee who drew up the resolution observed the Alberta Game Act is in direct conflict with the Dominion Act and that the latter holds precedence. They said the Dominion Act makes no reference to a Sunday shooting ban, while the provincial act does.

POST-WAR REPORT

During Monday afternoon's session of the convention, delegates heard and approved a report of the post-war rehabilitation committee, which recommended that the government institute policies to take care of the rehabilitation problems and at the same time preserve Alberta's natural resources.

A program of conservation can do much to the national problem of re-establishing men in civil life, the report stated. Rehabilitation planning must not consider wild life management, soil utilization, water and erosion control as separate and unco-ordinated items, but must treat them as inseparable and interlocking pieces of one central problem—that of control of natural resources.

During the afternoon delegates heard brief reports from committees on big game, upland game, migratory birds, angling and shotgun shells.

The ammunition committee reported they had been informed that the output of shells in 1944 was not only equal to that in normal years, but that more shells than in peace time had come into Alberta. It was pointed out that the number of game bird licenses in Alberta had increased from a peacetime maximum of about 9,000 to more than 13,000.

U.S. Officer Here Wins Promotion

Promotion to the rank of colonel was announced Tuesday of Lt. Col. R. R. Greiner, formerly of Roswell, New Mexico, assistant chief of staff for supply and services of the Alaskan Division of the Air Transport Command, USAAF.

Col. Greiner, who came to Edmonton from Ladd Field, Alaska, in the spring of 1943, resides with his wife at 10515 Saskatchewan Drive.

He has served for 17 years in the U.S. Army.

He is a graduate of three major military courses; the infantry school at Fort Benning, Georgia; the Air Supply School at Patterson, Ohio and the command and general staff school at Leavenworth, Kansas.

He is a member of the general staff corps.

When at Ladd Field, Alaska, he served under Brig.-Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, now commanding general of the Alaskan Division when the latter was in charge of the cold weather testing unit there. Col. Greiner's father is D. P. Greiner of Roswell, New Mexico.

Marketings of Livestock Show Large Increase

The grand total of all classes of livestock marketed or shipped through the Edmonton Stockyards during the year 1944 consisted of 282,713 head with an approximate value of $12,758,574.

As compared to the year 1943, the above receipts show an increase of 39,181 head, with an increase in value of approximately $1,479,126, officials stated on Tuesday.

Comparing actual receipts of marketing through the Edmonton Stockyards with the previous year the following increases are noted: Cattle 16,447, calves 6,351, hogs 5,907, sheep 10,024 and horses 452.

Comparing values of the various classes as listed above, the approximate value of cattle exceeded the 1943 value by $1,097,510, calves $128,704, hogs $191,672, sheep $53,727 and horses $8,382.

Total receipts and estimated values are as follows:

	No.	Value
Cattle	107,074	$8,770,898
Calves	20,812	534,045
Hogs	120,343	3,194,514
Sheep	32,522	237,535
Horses	1,962	21,582

Revenue from the sale of cattle on the Edmonton Stockyards last year again exceeded all past records.

The high price of the year was in the months of June and July when choice fed calves sold for $13 per cwt. and choice steers topped at $12.90 per cwt. The average price for the twelve months on the basis of good steers was at $11.15 per cwt. This is slightly higher than the same comparison for 1943, which was $11.05 per cwt.

The low price period of the year was in September when good steers only averaged $10.60. The average amount per head was $81.91 which is $2.75 less than the average sale of 1943. This small decrease in the average amount sale is due to the particularly heavy marketings of medium to common kinds of cattle mostly in the month of October and November. Total receipts were greater than the previous year by 16,447 head.

Trading generally was active on all suitable butcher cattle, with the well finished and better fleshed cattle of the good to choice class, being in demand, and finding a ready market at all times. The volume of plain cattle was unusually heavy during the fall season, when large numbers of common thin cattle arrived on the Edmonton market creating a serious congested situation.

There was no outlet for this class of cattle and it became necessary to issue a direct appeal to farmers and shippers to hold back all shipments of unfinished cattle. Labor trouble at the packing plants contributed to the temporary dull condition of the market, resulting finally in the large carryover of thin cattle being cleaned up as boners.

New receipts became lighter and under more orderly marketing, trading soon got on an even keel, again with considerably improved action on all classes in December. The close of the year found a much brighter outlook with prices fully steady to strong, and with daily receipts being well cleaned up.

The general quality of all cattle received showed some improvement over 1943. Of the total gradings 2.6% graded good to choice while the previous year only showed 1.9% as this class. The bulk of these were largely marketed in the spring and for the most part were finished winter feed lot cattle.

Summarizing the average price level of butcher cattle, stockers and calves in 1944 compared to 1943. On the basis of classes graded good, were as follows: steers $11.05 to $11.15; heifers $10.15 to $10.25; cows $7.60 to $8.50; stockers and feeders $8.50 to $9.50.

Civilian Advisory Group Will Administer Veterans Re-Establishment Credits

Setting up of a regional civilian advisory committee for the purpose of co-ordinating the administration of ex-service personnel re-establishment credits in the Edmonton district is underway here, it was revealed Tuesday by Dr. D. G. MacQueen, sub-district administrator and assistant chief medical officer for the department of veterans' affairs.

Injured Overseas: Airman Is at Home

Flt.-Lt. Charles H. Rainsforth, who recently returned from overseas, is convalescing at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rainsforth, 12208 Stony Plain Road. He was seriously injured about the head and back while driving a jeep on a highway used by fast-moving Allied convoys.

He completed one operational tour with a Typhoon squadron in France and Belgium, harassing enemy troops and supply movements with deadly rocket fire, and escaped without a scratch. Then he went "on rest" awaiting the start of his second tour. During this time he was injured.

Flt.-Lt. Rainsforth enlisted when he completed courses in June, 1940, at Victoria High School. After graduating from the air force school at Uplands, Ont., he was posted as an instructor at Claresholm and remained there for 21 months. He went overseas in 1943.

Catholic Student Group at Service

Roman Catholic students at the University of Alberta Sunday attended their first Holy Communion mass of the year. The mass was held in St. Joseph's chapel, university campus. Maj. J. M. Malone, senior Catholic chaplain with the Canadian assaulting forces in France, Belgium and Holland, now on 30 days' leave, celebrated mass and preached the sermon.

A communion breakfast was served in St. Joseph's dining hall for the first time since 1942, reviving pre-war custom of the college. Brother Ansbert, rector, expressed gratification for the restoration of the custom, and welcomed the guests. He then introduced Mr. Justice Hugh John MacDonald, who was recently appointed to the Supreme Court of Alberta. Mr. MacDonald gave a brief address, which was followed by a talk by Major Malone. The latter spoke of his reminiscences at the battle front.

Old-Time Resident Dies at 51 Years

Mrs. Eva Shields, a resident of Edmonton for 37 years, died at her home, 10619 83 avenue, on Sunday. She was 51 years old.

Born in London, England, in 1893, she came to Edmonton with her parents in 1907.

She was married to Henry C. Shields, who predeceased her in 1933.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Dave Forbes of Edmonton; one daughter, Mrs. Garry Little, Edmonton; and one son, FO John Mart Shields, RCAF, Summerside, P.E.I.; and her mother-in-law, Mrs. John Shields.

Hainstock and Son funeral home is in charge of arrangements which will be announced later.

Vets to Welcome Returned Soldiers

Members of the South Alberta Regiment returning from overseas desirous of becoming members of the 31st In. Association, will receive a glad welcome, it was decided at an executive meeting of the association held in the Williamson Building Monday evening.

The meeting dealt primarily with the question of admitting members of the South Alberta Regiment, and a decision was made to offer membership to those returning to the province. Arrangements will be completed at a general meeting to be called later.

Before the Magistrate

Joe Yedlinski, Edmonton, pleaded not guilty to failing to report for military training as required, and had his case adjourned until Thursday in city police court on Tuesday. He "wanted to straighten things out," he told the court. The magistrate was informed that the accused had asked for a 30-day postponement when he received his call, and had been refused.

John Dickie, listed among those present, admitted he had been in court before, and was fined $30 or 30 days.

Returns to Duty

Telegrapher L. F. Campbell, RCN VR, son of Mrs. J. Campbell, 12537 125 street, and the late John Campbell, who spent a furlough and Christmas leave at his home here, Tel. Campbell was educated at St. Edmund's and St. Joseph's High schools and was well known as a bicycle racer. At the age of 17 he won the Alberta cycling championship, riding 100 miles in three hours and 54 minutes, setting a new record. In the same year, 1941, he won the 50-mile race, the Alberta Beach 48-mile race, and the 25-mile race. He is stationed at Halifax.

Rail Brotherhood Installs Officers

The monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, Unity Lodge No. 2050, was held Friday in the IOOF hall with R. Bailey in the chair. Four new members were accepted.

Past president F. Mather installed the 1945 slate of officers, who are as follows: President, J. McAlra; vice-president, A. Tydesky; sergeant at arms, R. Bacon; financial secretary, H. Peterson; recording secretary, Miss F. McDermott; chaplain, J. Withler and inner guard, V. Heeks.

The board of trustees is as follows: S. Meneer, chairman; F. Mather and G. Turner, members. Social activities for the 1945 season were discussed and a committee appointed under the chairmanship of H. Peterson and the Misses D. Fletcher, E. Burton, M. Shalen and N. Hill. A social evening for all members was planned to take place in the near future.

UFA Executive Gathering Here

Advance meetings of United Farmers of Alberta organizations will start here Wednesday in preparation for the annual convention of the UFA to be held at the Macdonald hotel starting on Tuesday of next week.

Wednesday a meeting of the UFA co-operative board will be held under the chairmanship of George Church, Balzac. On Thursday the executive of the UFA will meet with Robert Gardiner, president, in the chair, and on Friday, Saturday and Monday the directors of the UFA will hold meetings preparatory to the annual meeting.

Mr. Gardiner will arrive in Edmonton Wednesday morning from his home at Acme.

A-R-O-U-N-D THE TOWN

J. B. Cross, Calgary, president, Calgary Brewing and Malting Co., is a visitor in Edmonton. He is a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

A special meeting of the Civic Service Union, No. 52 will be held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Labor Hall to discuss group life and health insurance and the civic union agreement.

A meeting of the Edmonton Civic Employees Federation will be held at the Civic Block on Thursday next at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the 1945 civic union agreements. C. E. Brown, president, will be chairman.

Twenty-three small and three large debt cases are listed for hearing at the sittings of the district court which opened at the court house Tuesday with Chief Judge Lucien Dubuc presiding. Five appeals from convictions are listed also.

A. M. Wilson provincial field crops commissioner stated Monday grain grown last fall has proven of excellent quality and there is no evidence of any seed shortage in the province. Demands for registered and certified seeds is expected to be strong, but it is too early to say what stocks from the large acreage field-inspected will be cleaned, sacked and sealed, he added.

Cafe Disturbance

Two men in uniform who entered a 101A avenue cafe, about 6 p.m. Monday, felt they did not have to wait their turn to be served a meal and started jostling their way to the inside, the manager of the eating house told police officers who were called. The two patrons left to find another eating place at the officers' request.

Five Persons Injured When Car Hits Pole

Five persons were injured and taken to hospital after the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a steel centre pole on Jasper avenue, just west of 103 street about 3:15 a.m. Tuesday. The driver of the car, Alex Skarliki, was arrested after being released by hospital authorities, and charged with dangerous driving.

The injured, all suffering from cuts, bruises and shock, were Mrs. Alex Skarliki, Bellamy block, 100A street and 101A avenue; Douglas Gordon, Walter Bellman, Garlie Guss, of unlisted Edmonton addresses; and Alex Skarliki, driver of the vehicle.

The automobile was badly damaged. According to a statement given to police by Skarliki, the auto seemed to "drag" as he drove along Jasper avenue. When he found one wheel had caught in a street car track, he tried to turn out. The swaying vehicle missed the first centre pole west of 103 street, but struck the second.

Left front of the car was demolished, as were both halves of the two piece windshield, the undercarriage and driving apparatus. Seats were torn loose and patches of blood were found both inside and outside of the auto.

City police expressed their belief that the auto had been travelling at a fast rate of speed when the accident occurred. Investigations are continuing.

Police Are Seeking German Prisoners

Two German prisoners of war, who escaped from a sawmill camp 100 miles northeast of Edmonton Friday are being sought by RCMP.

The pair are Herman Ruecker, aged 24, five feet nine inches, weighing 130 pounds, with black hair and a small scar on his left forehead; Peter Bruchl, 25, five feet eight inches, a mechanic, who weighs 145 pounds, has light brown hair, blue eyes and a pointed chin. The men had been employed at the Fawcett Lake lumber camp.

Entry had been made sometime before 12:40 a.m. Tuesday, when a patrol officer, Constable K. Pryor, found two padlocks broken off the rear doors, and the entrance open. To get into the building, carpenter had sagged through a transom over the front door.

W. Seveda, 10310 101 street, proprietor of the store, was notified, and after examination stated that between 15 and 20 bottles of poison had been taken perhaps in mistake, for something else.

Numerous drawers in the place had been ransacked, but no money was taken.

Thieves Steal Poisonous Drugs

Between 15 and 20 bottles of poison, consisting of strychnine, arsenic, mercury and atropine, were stolen from the premises of Western Pharmacy, 10310 101 street, sometime Monday night, according to city police.

Entry had been made sometime before 12:40 a.m. Tuesday, when a patrol officer, Constable K. Pryor, found two padlocks broken off the rear doors, and the entrance open. To get into the building, carpenter had sagged through a transom over the front door.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Good Disposition Is Best Marriage Trait

Young Men and Women Are Asked to Seek Good Natured Persons for Marriage; Happiness Of Home Depends on It

If I were a young man looking for a girl to marry, I would keep my eyes focused on the one thing that I would like to see in a girl's disposition. And if she had a bad one, no matter what looks or other charms and virtues she possessed, I would never, never take that fatal trip to the altar with her.

For I should know that in time romance fades away, and beauty turns to skin and bones, or fat;

that wit grows stale and cuteness silly, and that when they get married, but that the one thing they keep from the cradle to the grave is their disposition.

That would be the thing I would have to live with, day in and day out, for years and years and years. That would be the thing that would determine whether I would be happy or miserable, and whether my marriage would be a little bit of heaven on earth, or an understudy of purgatory.

BEWARE OF CAMOUFLAGE

You may say that picking out a wife with a good disposition is easier said than done. Because girls are so adept at camouflage that they can assume a virtue, even if they lack it, as easily as they can slip from an untidy house dress to a spick and span party gown.

Many a man who married a soft, gentle little creature so mild butter wouldn't melt in her mouth finds he is united to a virago. Many a yes-sayer before marriage is a no-noer after marriage. And probably there is no hope for a husband who can't call his own soul his own, who isn't attracted to his wife by the way she always defers to him before marriage, and said: "Just as you wish, John."

Now, of course, it is true that not even an FBI investigator can always tell what sort of a disposition a girl has concealed about her person, still and all, a little sleuthing in the matter will yield valuable tips, for not even the foxiest of females can always keep up an act.

DROWNS AMBITION

So the wise, old, when he goes a-courting, will note first whether the maiden who has hit his fancy was born with a real, genuine funniness, or whether she has just substituted a make-believe one. For the happiness of a home depends on whether the woman at the head of it laughs off the little inevitable mishaps of domesticity, or makes a tragedy of them. An optimistic wife, who is jolly and full of fun, keeps her husband jacked up to doing his best, whereas a melancholy, depressed wife drowns out all of his ambition in her tears.

Next, notice whether a girl can take things in her stride, or if she has to always be appeased. Stroking a kitten's fur may be a pleasant diversion for an hour occasionally, but having to rub an old cat's hide the right way to keep her from clawing you, is another matter. Step high, wide and handsome around the girl you have to handle with gloves.

Above all, get a line on a girl's real disposition by observing her own home. That is the best cue to her nature. If she is loving and unselfish and tender to her own people, she will be that way to her husband. But if she is selfish and peevish and fretful at home and her parents are afraid of her, heaven help the unfortunate sap who marries her.

So look out for Sweetum's disposition when you go a-courting, boys. It is the thing you will have to live with if you marry her.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Mrs. R. C. (Sally) Young of Philadelphia and Mrs. A. M. (Helen) Sobel of New York City are still the two outstanding woman bridge players of the world and when you pair them together, you have a difficult combination to beat so I was not surprised to see them again win the Women's National Team of Four Championship at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Young is a very keen and deceptive bidder and player. North's bid of four diamonds in today's hand is made to show no losers so Mrs. Young, being quick on the trigger, bids five clubs to lead her opponents into thinking that she is void of clubs and, therefore, if they get too high, a club opening may defeat a grand slam.

Now, of course, she lets the opponents go merrily on their way to six spades and when she bids seven diamonds, which is a sacrifice bid, the opponents do not dare go to seven spades. While they do defeat her contract three tricks doubled, the loss only amounts to five hundred points, which is a lot less than letting them make a small slam.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Walter S. Woods, deputy minister of Veterans Affairs, yesterday opened a two-week course for 190 officers and government officials charged with carrying out the government's rehabilitation program.

These Women!

"Never mind the questions, lady—do you or don't you want one?"

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

IF YOU MUST DYE TO WIN

The wag who cracked that the trouble with life insurance is you must die to win muffed it badly. Speaking as a sucker for life insurance I'd say one of the chief benefits is that it makes the thought of dying so much less dreadful for the insured. Indeed you win every time you pay a premium.

If you believe that by "touching up," lightening, darkening, bleaching or dyeing your hair you can better your economic or social status by all means do so. Only keep in mind that when one resorts to such artifice the success or satisfaction derived from it will depend upon the art or skill with which it is applied. If the effect is obviously artificial one stands to lose rather than gain by the make-believe.

I cannot recommend hair dyes. If hair is to be dyed, bleached, darkened or lightened, it is best to entrust the job to an experienced hairdresser or barber. Some preparations sold to the public for this purpose contain poisons. Several such preparations are mixture containing lead acetate (sugar of lead), silver nitrate (lunar caustic), or paraphenyldiamine—the last mentioned being used also for dyeing furs.

Henna or a mixture of henna and catechu is safe for tinting the hair. Walnut extract (if not mixed with other chemicals) is safe for tinting hair brown. Chamomile flowers or a tea made of them may be used for giving an auburn tint to dark hair or a golden lustre to fair hair.

For goodness sake, folks, don't assume that I guarantee satisfaction with any of these things. If you try any of them you should proceed with caution—experiment first with a single lock of hair before you undertake the whole works.

One other harmless home made preparation which many readers have used with satisfaction is Iron and Tea—a lump of iron sulfate ("copperas") size of kernel of corn or a pea in a pint or so of ordinary tea, black tea or green tea. Apply to gray hair by drawing strands of hair through soft cloth wet with the I and T—every day or when you please. It darkens the hair and keeps it dark if you use it artistically. When applied too freely it has one drawback—the black stains pillowcases—but this may be easily prevented if you don't mind sitting up all night holding your head in your hands. Seriously, I suspect that this pillow staining complaint betrays too much enthusiasm and too little skill in the application of I and T, but I mention it so that you may proceed with caution.

For bleaching hair ordinary hydrogen peroxide solution is perfectly safe, although I do not recommend bleaching the hair in any circumstance—except superfluous hair or a small tuft of hair here and there to make it less conspicuous. The standard peroxide is called Solution of Hydrogen Peroxide. It rapidly deteriorates on standing, especially if it is exposed to light. For bleaching hair use one part of standard Solution of Hydrogen Peroxide mixed with two parts of plain water.

Woman Denies Knowing Names Of Prisoners

Denying that she knew the names of two German prisoners-of-war, one of whom was charged with indecently assaulting her, Mrs. Netti (Naja) Hut, Northville district farmer's wife, retired from the witness stand after almost two hours of examination, before Magistrate Harold L. Howe, K.C., in city police court Monday afternoon.

The two prisoners-of-war, Pte. Reinhold Bauer and Lance-Corporal Kurt Wolfanger of the African Korps, each attired in German uniforms, followed the court proceedings with interest, with the aid of an interpreter.

According to Mrs. Hut, Bauer appeared in the farmhouse on the evening of last Oct. 27, at which time he seized her by the waist, dragging her from the kitchen into another room. After a struggle, the witness said, her husband appeared, and the accused ran outside.

CAMP NEAR FARM

The prisoner-of-war camp was located a short distance from the Hut farm, the witness continued, and both Bauer and Wolfanger had been at the house when her husband was home. She did not speak to the prisoners, she said, because she didn't understand them.

Counsel for the defence asked the witness if she had not called Bauer by his first name, and he, hers. She denied this having been so, and made further denial that he had tried to kiss her and put his arms around her.

Shown a snapshot of herself, her sister, Bauer and Wolfanger, the witness said she did not remember the picture being taken.

"Maybe it was just an accident the picture was taken," she said. "Me and my sister were standing there to have our pictures taken and they came and stepped behind us."

SHOWN SECOND PHOTO

She was shown another picture, of herself and sister, which she denied having given to Bauer. She did not know how he got hold of it.

The defence counsel produced what he called a "neat little photograph" of Bauer and Wolfanger, presumably taken in the Hut farmyard. The witness stated she did not know where it had been taken, and did not know whose house appeared in the snapshot.

Asked if she had obtained a photo from Bauer, the witness replied that she had not asked for one, nor did she ask for the loan of an English-German dictionary. She denied having written a letter to the man.

"Did he not say he loved you?" she was asked. "No, he did not."

ASKED ABOUT MARRIAGE

"Did he not say he would like to marry you some day?" "No, he did not."

Guy Patterson, K.C., acted as crown prosecutor, while J. S. Mavor, K.C., of Calgary, special counsel assigned by the Swiss government, is acting for the accused.

The case was scheduled to continue Tuesday morning.

Driver Injured In Auto Mishap

Driver of one auto received an injury to the right leg, while the operator of a light delivery truck was uninjured when it overturned after the two vehicles collided at 106 avenue and 104 street, about 2 p.m. Monday.

Pte. Daphne Jacques, 15 Unit, CWAC, Edmonton, who received the only injury in the collision, told police she did not see the other vehicle until it was right in front of her.

After the crash, the truck, one owned by the Electric Light Department and operated by James L. McMillan, R.R. 6, Fort Trail, spun over on its side, causing considerable damage to the vehicle.

The auto, which had a right-hand drive, was also considerably damaged, police said.

Dumb-Bells

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

One cannot improve upon the food which nature has provided for the baby. Breast milk is designed to meet the baby's nutritional needs. It is practically sterile, and it is warmed to the proper temperature. And, best of all, it is ever-present.

It is much easier to lift a sleepy baby into mother's bed and feed him at night than it is to get out of bed, warm a bottle, and hold him until its contents are gone.

Despite this seeming ease of breast-feeding, it is not easy for a mother to provide adequate nourishment unless she is aware and respectful of those factors which influence the supply.

One of these is rest. The fatigued mother cannot furnish an ample supply of milk. Just a rest in the middle of the day and an early bed time enjoyed for several days will show her how important this factor is.

It is well, too, to empty one's breasts thoroughly and nurse a little on the second breast. This is especially necessary in the beginning when the flow of milk is being established. The supply of milk is controlled by the stimulation given the breast and when this stimulation occurs only once in eight hours—as happens when the baby is on a four-hour schedule and alternate breasts are used at each feeding period—the stimulation is insufficient to promote a good supply.

The baby should be nursed slowly. The gas and air which collect should be passed up once or twice during a nursing. By such methods the mother will discover that the baby is capable of taking both breasts at one feeding. If she begins the next feeding on the breast the baby nursed last, she can thoroughly empty it and finish with the other.

Mothers always say "I nurse just 20 minutes and the baby isn't satisfied; should I nurse longer?" Yes, within reason, though it is pretty evident that if a baby cannot be satisfied in 20 or 30 minutes of nursing, the supply is faulty, not the timing.

The diet, too, is important. The mother should have good and ample nourishment and plenty of fluids to drink such as water and milk chiefly—and after that any soft drinks or even tea, coffee, or soup she may want. But it is necessary that she drink milk, one glass at each meal, as this provides her and, through her, the baby with the type of nourishment both need.

Nursing the baby isn't a slapdash affair, and is the result of rest, thorough stripping of the breast at regular intervals, and a good wholesome diet for the mother.

More advice on this important subject is available in my leaflet, "Information for Nursing Mothers." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Elderd, in care of this newspaper.

Unions Strive To Regain Control Of Resources

The credit union movement in Alberta is part of a far-reaching plan to restore to people of the province the control of their own resources. Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of trade and industry and municipal affairs, declared Monday night at a meeting of Edmonton Social Credit Constituency Association, held in the Social Credit hall, 9574 Jasper avenue.

Mr. Gerhart, speaking on the subject "Co-Operative Credit Unions" told his audience other parts of this plan to restore control of resources to the people were the government insurance offices, the various co-operatives established in the province, the treasury branch system and the provincial housing scheme.

TREASURY BRANCHES

The minister pointed to the treasury branches as "the biggest co-operative enterprise attempted anywhere on the face of the earth," saying that although they were ridiculed at the outset, the branches now have on deposit $15,000,000 outside of provincial government deposits. "That's getting to be 'big stuff,'" Mr. Gerhart stated.

He told of efforts made by the government and other organizations to get the National Housing Act operating in this province.

"Nothing is needed in Alberta as badly as houses. But the people are not coming forward to finance housing, as they have done in the past. They say they don't like legislation in Alberta."

The minister explained the province had offered to protect mortgage companies wishing to promote housing, by making legislation objected to not applicable to future loans. He described attempts by boards of trade and the government to arrive at an agreement with the companies, saying nothing came of the attempts.

OPPOSED TO LOANS

Mr. Gerhart continued: "We can only conclude they do not want to make loans. They have indicated this is because of our legislation. That's bunk."

"They want us to cancel our legislation and revive the loans we cancelled back in 1935 and 1936. That's the price, but we won't pay it."

Touching the provincial housing association plan, the minister said it was heard on every side that $4,000,000 is not enough to help the situation appreciably.

"We know that; but we know that $4,000,000 can grow to $40,000,000 or to $140,000,000. If they don't do these things for us, we'll do them ourselves," he asserted.

Mr. Gerhart spoke at the beginning of his address on growth of the credit union movement in the province, which in five years has expanded to embrace 16 unions, with assets of $1,000,000, total loan over $2,500,000 and 14,543 members.

Referring to credit union members, the minister said they were taking it upon themselves to restore their control over their resources.

CAN'T BE "DEFLATED"

"When you get control of your savings, nobody can deflate you as the banks did in the depression years," he added. "The big idea is to restore to ourselves the control of our own resources."

Explaining in detail the mechanics of credit union operations, the speaker said the unions must educate their members to finance the co-operative movement. While the unions may appear as "petty stuff" to scoffers, they were no such thing.

Livestock and consumer co-ops are getting the people out from under the control of business cartels and are working to the same end as other co-operative efforts, to restore control of resources to the people, Mr. Gerhart declared.

John B. Gillies, vice-president of the constituency association, was chairman of the meeting. A program of music was arranged by Mrs. S. E. Carter.

Coldwell Expects CCF Will Capture Grey North Seat

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, national CCF leader, yesterday wired Air Vice-Marshal A. R. Godfrey, CCF candidate for Grey North, expressing conviction of a CCF victory in the by-election to be held Feb. 5.

Mr. Coldwell's wire: "The government decided to open Grey North for the minister of national defence (Gen. McNaughton) instead of assigning him to one of the 11 other seats now vacant in parliament. The Tories decided to contest the by-election and the Grey North CCF have decided to win it. I therefore wish you and your supporters, in the constituency every success. Your intimate knowledge of our defence departments and your experience during this war will enable you to make a very great contribution in parliament."

Action For Costs Is Before Court

Trial of the supreme court action brought by Aircraft Repair Ltd. to recover from J. J. Ryan, New York, the cost of a major overhaul of a Beechcraft airplane opened Monday before Mr. Justice S. J. Shephard at the court house.

The plaintiff is represented by George H. Steer, K.C., and Ronald Marland, K.C., and the defendant by F. Armour Ford, K.C., and Howard T. Emery, K.C.

The airplane was brought from Juneau, Alaska, to be repaired at the Aircraft Repair plant in March, 1942. The hearing is proceeding, and is likely to last several days as barristers and accountants delve into accounts covering the repair work. Lee Brintnell, president of the company, was the first witness called.

Seamen Protesting Hiring Procedure

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Officials of the Canadian Seamen's Union said in a statement yesterday that administration of the federal government manning pools serving the merchant marine will be reviewed at a meeting Thursday in Ottawa between union and government representatives. The union said the talks have been "requested by the union because of mounting dissatisfaction amongst merchant seamen with the present hiring procedure." The statement added that Transport Minister J. E. Michaud and Arthur Randles, director of Merchant Seamen, will attend.

Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.

But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities now agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.

For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B1 and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy fuel—food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

So, if your child is thin, nervous and not developing properly, why not turn to Ovaltine as thousands are doing. Three normal meals plus two glasses of Ovaltine a day give your child all the extra amounts of vitamins and minerals needed for health and top vitality.

War Bride of a Year Finds Canadian Customs Different

By KAY FORD

The glitter and glamor of Edmonton shoe stores has proved a revelation to Mrs. J. J. Rigby, 10878 128 street, a British war bride. Mrs. Rigby has been living in Edmonton for the past year, and in that time has had a chance to compare the Canadian way of life and customs of that of England.

She is the wife of P.O. J. J. Rigby, RCAF, who was awarded the Air Force Cross in the New Year's honours list issued this month by His Majesty the King. They were married in Ipswich, Eng., and have one son, Barrie, 19 months old.

SHOPPING INTERESTING

"Seeing so many styles and high heels to be bought in shops here certainly makes shopping more interesting," says Mrs. Rigby. "It is very odd to find women not wearing noisy, wooden-soled shoes like we had at home."

"Two-bit" pieces and "dimes" are confusing to the British war bride. She says Canadian money is much easier to understand than the pounds, shilling and pence of the Old Land, but popular nick-names for Canadian coins often are hard to get along with.

Canadian street cars are "awfully noisy" compared to their British trains says Mrs. Rigby. The rolling and rocking of the cars does not appeal to her. She says the trains and double-decker buses in England are more comfortable and less crowded.

The system in Canada of fares has caused Mrs. Rigby some embarrassment as she has several times gone right in and sat down waiting for the conductor to come around to collect the fare. Actually she likes the pay-as-you-enter system which is less confusing to passengers as well as to the conductor.

HOUSES STRANGE

Mrs. Rigby says one of the strangest things in Canada is the housing. She has never seen so many houses made of wood nor so many small houses. The homes in England are mostly two stories, built of brick and in many cases built in rows which Canadians call "tenements."

The abundance of clothing in Canada is a continued surprise to British war brides. It is difficult to get stockings in England and cosmetics are lacking too.

The no-smoking rule in Canadian theatres is a wonder to the war bride because in England there is smoking in all places of amusement. The English girl says "we have fewer fires in England than you have here."

SOCIAL LIFE

Since coming to Canada Mrs. Rigby has been entertained at showers and social affairs that she had never heard about in England. "It was certainly nice of the people," asserted Mrs. Rigby, "because I met so many new friends and they all brought the grandest gifts even though they had never met me."

The number of men holding jobs such as mailmen, milkmen, breadmen, truck drivers and many others was another strange sight to Mrs. Rigby. In England most of the workers are women of all ages. Mrs. Rigby was a member of the WAAF for three years in the accounting section.

MARRIED AT ST. FAITH'S

Lt. George Edward Mayhew, RCAF, and Mrs. Mayhew, the former Miss Elsie Winnifred Hopwood, who were married recently at St. Faith's Anglican church. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hopwood, and the bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Mayhew, all of Edmonton. The Rev. L. M. Watts officiated.

The Personal Column

IT HAS just been announced that the "Froph", annual mid-winter semi-formal sponsored by the Freshman and Sophomore classes at the University of Alberta, will take place on Jan. 19 at the Macdonald hotel. The official title of the dance will be "Moon Glow". The patrons will be Dr. and Mrs. Walter Johns of the classics department and H. R. Milley of the physics department. The committee in charge of arrangements include Murray Stewart, president of the sophomore class; with Marg Hunter, vice-president; Harold Shannon, secretary-treasurer; and the executive consisting of Brent Scott, Gordon Proctor and Will Ryan. The executive of the Freshman class consists of Ross Jeffries, president; Frances Waddell, vice-president; Bob Jackson, secretary-treasurer; and the executive, Elaine Wagner, John Koch and Rod McDonald.

Mrs. Louise Nash, of Ottawa, left Sunday to return to her home after spending the holiday season in the city with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Darby Nash, and her mother Mrs. Melville Cardie.

John S. Mavor, K.C. of Calgary, is a business visitor in the city, guest at the Macdonald hotel.

Prof. R. M. Hardy To Address Club

Professor R. M. Hardy, assistant professor of civil engineering at the University of Alberta; will be the speaker at the first meeting of the Philosophical Society in the new year. His subject will be "Engineering and Society." Professor Hardy has been a professor at the University of Alberta for 14 years and has a wide knowledge in the field of engineering education and a wide practical experience in construction work in both eastern and western Canada.

Professor Hardy has divided his subject into two main divisions for purposes of clarity. In the first part of his talk he will deal with the engineering curriculum in the university which is now under consideration for revision. In the second part of his lecture he will deal with the position of the engineer in society.

Professor Hardy will repeat his talk in Calgary on the following evening, Jan. 11, under the auspices of the Calgary University of Alberta Alumni.

Red Cross Women Drive in Belgium

SOMEWHERE IN BELGIUM. Jan. 9.—(CP)—Twelve members of the Canadian Red Cross Corps, a third of them from Montreal, are living in this large Belgian city attached to the army as drivers. With them is a Canadian member of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. Before they crossed the Channel they spent four months in England driving wounded evacuated by air from continental battlefields.

Montrealers in the Canadian group are Katharine MacKenzie (1621 Sherbrooke W.), Mary Cuddy (1321 Sherbrooke W.), Margaret Stewart (3438 Stanley St.) and Mary Fowler (610 Argyle Ave.).

The others are Joan Fraser (Roxborough Ave.) and Mrs. Sybil Petrie, both of Ottawa; Mary Burgoyne (25 Bellevue Terrace), St. Catharines, Ont.; Kathleen Budd (197 Roshampton Ave.) and Mrs. Joan Segsworth (20 Whitehall Rd.), both Toronto; Mrs. Mary Warrington, Breakeville, Que.; Douglas McIlwraith (230 James St. E.) Hamilton; Marjorie B. Stewart, (Greenfield Ave.) Charlottetown; and Sally Maclean, Halifax, of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Helen Walker Married Here to Sgt. John G. Kromer, USAAF

IN MUSICAL PLAY

Bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and lighted tapers decorated Robertson United church Monday at 7 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Helen Walker, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walker, and Technical Sergeant John G. Kromer, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kromer of Irvington, New Jersey, USA. The Rev. Marshall MacKinnon officiated.

Given in marriage by her mother the bride wore a street-length dress of white crepe, styled with a bodice crossed at the front to form a V-neckline, three-quarter length sleeves, semi-fitted skirt and flange at the waistline. She had a white calot model hat trimmed with velvet, white gloves and black slippers. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Best man was Staff Sgt. Ross Copenhaver, USAAF, and ushers were PO Arnold Walker, RCNVR, and T. Sgt. Donald Whitehouse, USAAF. Miss Catherine Gander gave two solo numbers, "Because," and "O Perfect Love."

A reception to 65 guests was held at the Macdonald hotel. Receiving with the wedding party, Mrs. Walker wore a black sheer afternoon dress with fuchsia hat, and other accessories of black. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

For their wedding trip to Banff the bride wore a gingham suit of green, brown hat, gloves, shoes and bag and brown fur topcoat.

T. Sgt. and Mrs. Kromer will make their home in Edmonton temporarily.

Tax Prepayments

Total $329,582.12

Tax prepayments up to Jan. 8
totalled $329,582.12, of which $112, 600.95 was paid to the city assessor's department on Monday, according to a report issued Tuesday by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

Payments Monday included the Canadian National Railways, $74,
755.07, and The Dominion Bank,
$3,815.92.

A four per cent discount is allowed on all prepayments made up to and including Jan. 15.

Plan to Satisfy Labor Demand For Farm Work

All reasonable demands for labor will be met during spring farming operations, according to Fred J. White, Winnipeg regional superintendent, National Selective Service, who arrived here Tuesday in the course of a routine inspection tour of western offices. He said there had been an easement in the labor supply situation with personnel discharged from the services coming into the labor market.

Other factors in the situation, he said, were the seasonal lay-offs in the building trades, and clerical
help whose services were not required following the Christmas and New Year.

He said that a considerable increase in the manpower made available for ice harvesting had been made. This increase was ratified because of the ice shortage that developed throughout Canada late in the autumn.

LUMBER CAMPS SHORT

Mr. White said that lumber camps were fairly well supplied with workers, but there was an overall shortage in the camps of Western Canada of approximately 5,000. The mining industry in the west is better staffed now than for some time
but there is still an overall shortage in this labor field. The difficulty in getting certified miners was a factor in the short supply of labor, he said.

He said that 10,000 men had been transferred from farms
throughout the west to other occupations during the past several months. These transfers would be required to return to farming
by March 31, but this date may be extended if weather conditions are such that seeding operations cannot be started then.

Mr. White said that approximately 3,000 persons were drawing unemployment insurance in western Canada at present. Seasonal lay-offs in certain trades was responsible.

Employees Name Group Officers

First of this district's Alaskan Division Employee Associations
has been organized, according to Maj. W. A. Weber, Jr., civilian personnel officer. Elections were held to select the first executive of the headquarters section of the association.

Mrs. Betty Petersen was chosen president, winning out over Mrs.
Helen Hart and Mrs. Beattie Eist.
Jeanne Choquet was elected to the executive as a director over Elmer Hagan. All other executive positions were filled by acclamation
and include Molly Browning as vice-president; Polly Isaenko, secretary; Doris Connolly, treasurer, and Rosemary Jordan and Al Pelz
as directors.

Membership of the association consists of civilian employees of the United States government at the various bases in the Alaskan Division. A strong club is in operation at Great Falls, Mont., and plans are proceeding with the organization of similar groups in this Canadian sector of the division.

Purpose of the association is to operate activities and facilities
which will "contribute to the comfort, pleasure, contentment and mental and physical improvement"
of the employees of the division,
and their families. Projects planned for the headquarters group include an employee newspaper,
lounge, recreation, credit union,
hospitalization and commercial shopping services.

City Debentures Nearly All Sold

At the close of business on the fourth day of the sale of the $3-
,000,000 of Edmonton debentures,
nearly the city's debt refunding
offerings of $200,000 remained to be sold, according to advices received from the underwriters by City Commissioner John Hodgson.

He reported that the Civic Employees' Pension Fund had purchased $500,000 of the issue.

Commander Lauds Britons on Canuck Tanks For Skill, Patience

ATHENS, Jan. 9.—(CP-Reuters).
—The courage, skill and patience
of the British forces who had cleared Athens and the Piraeus had been outstanding under trying circumstances, the British military commander of Athens said in a message to his men yesterday.

"Your disregard for danger and your restraint under provocation
have resulted in the complete expulsion of the forces opposed to law and order with the minimum of damage necessarily caused to the innocent civilian population,"
the message said.

"You have most of you seen with your own eyes the gratitude and joy of the people you have liberated. Your own country too has every reason to be proud of the way in which you have carried out your task."

Paper in Britain Praises Fearless Address by F.D.R.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(CP-Reuters).
—The Evening Standard yesterday
devoted almost its entire editorial
page to president Roosevelt's address to Congress with a 1,000-word editorial and a David Low cartoon displaying the president on a step
—offering a bulb in the state of Liberty's lamp entitled "Responsibility."

The editorial, declaring that Mr. political

Across Meuse

Britons on Canuck Tanks Wipe Out Foe Bridgehead

A COMPANY HEADQUARTERS
ON THE MAAS RIVER, Jan. 9.—(CP)—British infantry companies, riding 800 yards on Canadian tanks across flat, snow-swept fields, yesterday wiped out a German bridgehead established west of the Maas (Meuse) river in Holland at Wanssum, 12 miles north of Venlo.

The Canadian tanks, commanded by Maj. Harry Baldwin of Woodstock, Ont., streaked out into a heavy snowstorm that clouded the tanks' periscopes and floated across rifle sights.

Most of the Germans retreated to the east bank of the 1,100-yard-wide river and only 15 prisoners were taken by noon.

The British-Canadian thrust eliminated the enemy threat to drive a wedge between British and Canadian forces holding the northern wing of the western front.

Casualties were comparatively light. Baldwin said about five of the troop-carrying tanks were damaged by mines left by the Germans.

The Germans had crossed the river in motorboats the night of Jan. 1. Only courageous fighting
by a small force of infantrymen who refused to retreat saved the village of Wanssum and kept the enemy from exploiting their positions on the west side of the Maas.

Army Planning Recruiting Drive

The first army recruiting drive in 1945 will commence the middle of January when several trips are being arranged for cities and towns
in Alberta by the district recruiting officer, MD No. 13.

Although emphasis will be on CWAC recruiting, members of the travelling parties will interview
both men and women as prospective members for Canada's Active Army.

With members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps serving in Italy, France, Belgium and Holland
now, recruits are needed to fill vacancies as clerks, cooks, barrack
orderlies, mess and office orderlies, storewomen and drivers. In addition, dental assistants, switchboard operators, teletype operators, draftswomen, tailors and postal assistants are urgently needed. There is still a big job for everyone to do.

Sgt. Vera Shirley, of the Army Recruiting Sub-Station in Edmonton, will be in Athabasca on Jan.
16 and 17 and in Clyde on Jan. 18
and 19.

CSM B. J. Barnes, also of the Edmonton recruiting station, will be in Lacombe on Jan. 15; Stettler
Jan. 16 and 17 and morning of Jan.
17; in Castor Jan. 19 and 20, and in Lacombe the afternoon of Jan. 20.

British Forces Capture Thebes

ATHENS, Jan. 9.—(BUP)—British tanks with infantry support captured Thebes, 30 miles northwest of Athens, against slight Elas resistance and fanned out to the north today.

An Elas representative was revealed to have delivered an unsigned note to the British command in Athens yesterday, but the British sent the note back for a signature.

A spokesman said Elas representatives always would be welcome for peace negotiations.

Official sources estimated that the Elas forces suffered 50 per cent
casualties in the battle of Athens—about 4,000 killed or wounded and more than 8,000 captured, of a total force of some 25,000 men who were engaged in the Athens and Piraeus
fighting at various times.

Ski Experts Say, If You Must Fall, Do It Right

How not to fall when you're skiing is demonstrated by Virginia Jardine as she upsets for the camera. The right way, say experts, is sideways, into the hill.

This is the menace type of skier—who gets frightened and sits down on his or her skis and sails blithely downhill at 50 m.p.h. The right way to fall is important to know.

"Take 'Em Off!"

Petticoats were all right in their day, but, thank goodness, this is not their day, says screen actress Joan Fontaine as she sheds pounds and pounds of the archaic garments after shooting a scene from the costume film "Frenchman's Creek."

New CPR Branch Line Opened

All Osoyoos and district turned out on December 28 to welcome the arrival of the first Canadian Pacific Railway train, an event heralded as the most important in the history of the fertile section of British Columbia's rich Okanagan fruit lands. Above, George Baillie (centre talking into microphone), general superintendent, B.C. district, CPR, promises efficient rail service.

In the front row are, left to right: George Fraser, pioneer resident who drove the last spike; C. A. Cotterell, assistant general manager, Vancouver, B.C., and Rev. Father Muelenbergh, mainspring of Osoyoos civic affairs. In the lower pictures crowds run to the station to see a sight never witnessed before in Osoyoos... the arrival of the first train which will carry their produce to the outside world.

Norman Clark, ski instructor at Summit, 20 miles north of Toronto, demonstrates correct way to fall. There is little danger, he says, when you teeter sideways instead of letting your skis get out of control.

And this is the expert way to recover from a fall. Eleanor Harrington does a roll with her skis in the air, which should land her right side up again. Instructor Clark says a tyro needs 100 falls to pass the primary stage.

VC Won by Husband

Mrs. David Hornell received this Victoria Cross on behalf of her husband, the late Flt.-Lt. David Hornell, who was posthumously awarded the medal for a valorous attack on a U-boat. It was the first time that a Victoria Cross had been presented at an investiture in Canada.

Helping Hungry Hollanders

In free Holland, from the Belgian border to the line of the Maas, officers and men of the Royal Canadian Air Force are trying to undo the wrongs of four years under the German heel. Working through and with Netherlands officials, these men—Royal Canadian Air Force officers among them—are charged with the responsibility of housing the homeless, feeding the hungry, and restoring life to the broken towns and cities. In the upper picture Squadron Leader J. F. MacNamara, formerly a schoolmaster at Globe Collegiate, Ottawa, and for three years flying control officer at Rockcliffe airport, looks on while a Dutch chef dishes out hot food at a communal feeding centre. Children are usually sent to draw the family ration of hot food, and in the lower picture a little girl holds up a bucket to be filled.

Returns to Canada

Twice, crews he has flown with were killed, but FO. Roy Denman of Welland lived to return home. His father, A. G. Denman, went overseas with the army, was discharged as medically unfit, and later joined the RCAF and trained as an air-gunner.

Now in Movies

Movie press-agents feel that it is only fitting that a former Miss America should get a role in a forthcoming patriotic picture. Here she is, Jo-Carroll Dennison, of Tyler, Texas.

Scanty—But It's All Velvet

Just to give you winterbound readers something to look forward to, the comely model in the photo above was snapped at a recent New York fashion show, where she modeled this black velvet scantyswim. California designer Cole says you'll see it on next summer's beaches.

"Nuts" to Nazis

Brig.-Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, deputy commander of the U.S. 101st "Eagle" airborne division at Bastogne who won the Germans asked them to surrender gave the one-word answer "nuts."

Another Jap Ship Down

Jap warship mortally hit in an attack by U.S. planes off the western coast of Leyte on Dec. 7, slides to the bottom. The ship is either a cruiser or large destroyer.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—(CP)—The Toronto stock market displayed a generally strong tone in moderately active trading today. Prices dipped around the early afternoon after a morning of sizeable gains for the morning session and the closing tone was again strong, showing net gains for the industrial and both mining groups.

Chicago Futures Trade Fluctuates

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The grain

market fluctuated today, dipping after the opening, falling and then ending

off at the close under profit-taking.

Selling of rye near the close brought

a decline which carried each contract

to nearly a cent lower than yesterday's close at the finish.
